Battling Over Bill On Welfare

Rocky Has Paper On Board's Power

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A behind-the-scenes battle was under way today over a bill that would turn the Board of Social Welfare into the chief administrator of welfare in New York State.

The bill was passed by the 1962 Legislature but has not yet been signed by the governor.

It would strip from the welfare commissioner, who is an agent of the board, his power to regulate welfare operations on the local level. This authority would be given to the board.

Commissioner Acts Now

At present, the 15-member board sets the general outline of policy and the commissioner carries it out by issuing regulations.

Proponents of the measure are arguing that leadership in the controversial public welfare field needs strengthening and that the bill would place responsibility for action clearly on the board.

The bill increasing the board's power was introduced by the Senate Rules Committee March 19 at the behest of Sen. Henry A. Wise, R-Watertown, chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Relief and Welfare. It was given final approval in the Assembly Saturday, the final day of the 1962 session.

Surprise to Chapter

The action was a surprise to the state chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, which had been lobbying against the bill. The chapter had heard Friday that the bill was dead in the Assembly.

After it was passed, the chapter wired Rockefeller:

"Our organization is appalled at the manner in which the Legislature passed (the bill) completely changing the rule-making authority of the Social Welfare Department....It would require the board to become an administrative body with greatly enlarged staff....we request your immediate veto."

Thinks It Would Hurt

Raymond W. Houston, who has resigned as social welfare commissioner as of next July, also is urging a veto. He said today he considered the Legislature's action "too hasty" in view of the study under way into methods of simplifying department procedures. He said turning over to the board the duty of issuing regulations would bog it down in detail.

Houston said the proposed change had no connection with his resignation. Proponents of the bill are making an effort to avoid having it construed as a bad reflection on Houston. The measure would not take effect until after Houston had left office.

Since Rockefeller has launched what he terms a major study of the entire welfare field, he normally would be expected to veto such a measure as is before him. He usually says action should await completion of a study.

Powerful legislative forces are working for this bill, however, and the fact that the Assembly passed it would indicate the governor is favorable. Speaker Joseph F. Carlino makes an effort to kill in committee bills he considers headed for an executive veto.

Rostow Also Influential

Walker Ties Rusk With U.S. 'Sell-Out' Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, testified today that he regards Secretary of State Dean Rusk as a link with a mysterious secret apparatus bent on a "sell-out" of this country.

Walker also named Walt Whitman Rostow, a top State Department planner, as influential in a secret "control apparatus" which the ex-general said always followed "the soft line on communism."

'Shadowy Forces'

Walker named these two in response to questions by Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska.

Bartlett was pursuing details on Walker's general charge Wednesday that shadowy forces hand in hand with communism are eating at the American way of life.

For seven hours in the witness chair of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee, Walker had blazed away Wednesday at government officials from President Kennedy on down and contended the nation was following a policy of "no-win and retreat from victory."

Defamed Over Hard Line

He contended too that he had been summarily removed from his command and defamed because of his "hard hitting line against communism."

Walker resigned from the Army last fall with a bitter blast at his superiors after being removed from command of an Army division in Germany and admonished for making derogatory statements publicly about prominent Americans.

He is now living in Texas and is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of the state.

The subcommittee called him as a witness in its inquiry into charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that military leaders wanting to speak out against communism have been censored and muzzled.

When Walker returned to the witness chair today, Bartlett asked what the former general meant Wednesday when he said, "It is evident that the real control apparatus will not tolerate militant anti-Communist leadership by a division commander."

Explains 'Apparatus'

What did "real control apparatus mean?" Bartlett asked

Walker replied that the "real control apparatus could be identified by its efforts and what it is doing."

He said the soft-line on communism had let the Communists take over Cuba and part of Korea and spread into the Congo.

Walker said this apparatus accomplished its propaganda through the United Nations, adding:

"The United Nations is the nearest thing to the Tower of Babel that's ever been built."

Walker said the effort was "to sell out our traditions, our constitution, our sovereignty, our independence."

Bartlett told Walker that if the country faced such a peril the

Wet Belt Heads Eastward, Texas Gets Inch Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms dampened sections from the southern and south central Plains into the central part of the nation today and headed eastward.

The showery belt extended across the middle Mississippi Valley and the southwestern Great Lakes region. Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in central Texas and showers spread into the lower Mississippi Valley. Heaviest rains were in Texas, with one-inch falls in a six-hour period reported in Amarillo, Pallacios and Austin.

The rain was expected to extend over the southern and central Midwest and the Ohio Valley, with showers and occasional thunderstorms from the eastern half of the southern Plains to the southern Appalachians.

Mostly fair weather prevailed in areas east of the Appalachians, the northern Plains, the southern Plateau and the central and southern Pacific Coast. Skies were cloudy in the Rockies and the central Plateau while light rain sprinkled sections of the North Pacific Coast and the northern Plateau.

Coolest weather, a little below freezing, was reported in the North Atlantic states. Temperatures in the 30s and 40s prevailed in most sections, with 50s and 60s in Southern areas and 70s in southern Florida and the southern Plateau region.

Rinschler Joins Race

5 Candidates to Run for School Posts

Charles M. Rinschler, local insurance agent, today announced he is a candidate for election to the Kingston Board of Education at the election to be held May 1. Rinschler brings the number of announced candidates to five.

None of the candidates had as of today filed nominating petitions, containing at least 100 signatures, with the board as required. The final date for filing is April 11, if the candidate's name is to appear on the official ballot.

Announcement by Mr. Rinschler today that he is officially a candidate, brings the total number of active candidates to five. This includes the two who were recommended Tuesday night by the Nonpartisan Nominating Committee, Gifford R. Beal of Town of Ulster and Robert F. Browning of Kingston; Zale Liese of Port Ewen, a former member of the Port Ewen Board of Education, and Thomas Lyle of 432 Albany Avenue, who yesterday announced his candidacy.

Named as a committee of six to assist in preparation of signature petitions, the Nonpartisan Nominating Committee on Tuesday named Christus Larios, Hurley, chairman; Joseph McCann, Kingston; Mrs. Martin Oberkirch Jr., Port Ewen; Donald Short, Kingston; Daniel Morehouse, Lake Katrine, and Sol Rosenthal, Ulster Park. This committee will assist in circulating the signature petitions for the two candidates endorsed by the Nonpartisan Committee.

In announcing his candidacy today, Mr. Rinschler said:

"I would like to announce that petitions nominating me as a candidate for election to membership on the Board of Education Kingston Consolidated, were put into public circulation late Wednesday afternoon.

"Upon completion of the legal requirements relative to these petitions and their final certification by the Board sometime after April 10, I will at that time automatically become a candidate.

"Meanwhile, I would like to ask the help and assistance of those qualified voters who would care to sign my petition, and who may miss seeing those in circulation. For these people there is a petition copy in my office at 52 Main Street, Kingston, and I assure you of a warm welcome therein. Aside from the petition signature I would be pleased to meet any person who holds an individual opinion on education be it from the viewpoint of parent, teacher or student. If elected, I hope to reflect their attitudes."

The name of Mr. Rinschler had previously been included among those known to be seeking to fill one of the vacancies which will be created by expiration of the term of President George Schneider and Mrs. Bertha Connelly.

Attack May Mean Purge By Peiping

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's leadership today castigated members of the Chinese Communist party who it said have become bureaucratic, insolent and self-satisfied.

The unusually sharp denunciation may be the prelude to a new purge of the Chinese party of more than 12 million members. The purged may become whipping boys for the present chaotic condition of Chinese agriculture, which has created hunger and unrest on the mainland.

Attack Is Published

The attack was published in the official Peiping People's Daily midway through an ultra-secret meeting of the National People's Congress, the Chinese Communists' rubber-stamp parliament.

"There are persons," the paper said, "who have become steeped in bureaucracy, exhibit feelings of insolence and self-satisfaction, forget realities, estrange themselves from the masses and do not care to discuss things with the masses."

The editorial said many new members of the party lack experience in revolutionary struggle and have not been educated in Marxism and Leninism. Both old and new party members must, during the present period, undergo re-education, it continued.

"It has become an important task for us to understand the importance of solidifying the party's political, ideological and organizational phases, strengthening the party's ideological construction," it declared.

Last Overhaul in '58

The last big overhaul of the Chinese Communist party took place in 1958 following the failure of Mao Tze-tung's freedom of expression policy, called "let all flowers bloom, let 100 schools of thought contend." For one startling month critics of Communism, and of Mao, had their public say. Then they were subjected to ruthless persecution as "rightists."

In recent months the Chinese Reds have made plain that the "great leap forward"—the crash program to make China a world industrial power—has been shelved because of agriculture failures. Mao's agricultural program of rural communes, grouping millions of peasants into communized colonies, has been drastically modified because the peasants didn't produce in the communes.

As it did in the "let all flowers bloom" period, the People's Daily now says that party members should be encouraged to criticize higher ranking members.

"Say anything you know," the editorial said, "express whatever you are thinking, and if there is nothing wrong in a person's opinion, it should be taken as a lesson to the listener."

Major Battle Shaping Up Over Army's Guard Plan

Opposition Great on Tax Bill

Wharton Reports Very Heavy Mail

Unprecedented interest and alarm expressed in this area over the Kennedy catch-all tax revision bill has "greatly impressed" Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R-29th district). The bill would establish a withholding tax on savings and dividend payments among other things.

The House passed the proposed bill last week, 219-196, with 34 Democrats joining with the 162 Republicans in opposition. The measure then went to the Senate.

"It is reported that a majority of the Senate is inclined to favor the bill, and I anticipate they will vote on it within the next week or two," Congressman Wharton said.

Record Amount of Mail

According to reports from Washington, Congressman Wharton told other congressmen before the House vote: "During my 12 years in the House, I have never received such a volume of mail unanimously opposed to a single bill. It comes almost entirely from little people who rely upon this income after a life of toil and savings. Have we reached a point where the old-fashioned virtues are to be penalized by bureaucracy, delay and red tape?"

In a communication, Congressman Wharton was quoted as saying:" It would be one thing to withhold taxes are due, but quite another approach to penalize the aged and the small depositors who rely on this income for current living expenses."

No Amendments Permitted

The proposed tax revision measure passed the House under a closed or "gag" rule, permitting no amendments.

Congressman Wharton tried unsuccessfully to return the bill to committee stating, "This withholding proposal clearly demonstrates that taxes require thinking through all over again."

Addresses House

The Congressional Record of March 29 quotes Representative Wharton as delivering the following speech in the House:

"It is clear that we have here just another attempt at revenue revision, rather than legislation designed to raise necessary funds for the Federal Government to operate.

"This bill proposed to reduce Federal income via a 7-per cent subsidy to industry on new equipment. On the other hand, it aims to penalize our businessmen who have successfully penetrated foreign markets. Possibly the administration feels that this would be an even break, but I have serious doubts on that score.

"Next we come to the controversial withholding provision aimed at that substantial segment of the American people who have worked and saved money, investing it in a savings institution or in dividend paying stocks. Whether 20 per cent of their income is withheld or they file a sort of pauper's oath stating their low incomes are not subject to taxation, they are involved in bureaucracy, delay, and red tape where they have never been before. Mind you, these are the people who habitually pay their tax, their funds are right there on deposit as security to the government in case they do not and they know it.

Will Invite Probers To Meet Police Board

Mayor John J. Schwenk, who today released a statement denying a news "leak" from a police board member after a March 22 board meeting, said he will ask a specially appointed Common Council committee to attend a Monday night meeting of the commissioners.

The joint release today resulting from a special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners Wednesday night denied that any commissioner had disclosed information concerning discussions at the Board's March 22 meeting to WGHQ reporter Tom Lacue.

"Lacue, in his March 23 newscasts," the statement says, " had attributed his report of what had transpired at the meeting to 'a member of the Board who declined to be identified.' This report, re-read by Alderman Hastings at Tuesday's Common Council meeting, resulted in the appointment of a special investigation committee.

All Make Denial

"Last night, all members of the Board of Police Commissioners categoricaly denied that they had made any statement to Lacue following the March 22 meeting, and concluded that Lacue's account of the meeting was third hand, at best. This would explain, they said, the many discrepencies and errors in fact in his news report.

"Mayor Schwenk said that he regretted that this unconfirmed, third-hand news report has cast suspicion on the integrity of any member of the Board of Police Commissioners, whom he feels are honorable, dedicated, members of the community."

Acting upon information that state aid to schools will be considerably increased for the coming year, Saugerties Board of Education at a special meeting Tuesday night approved steps to bring the local salary schedule in line with those of most of its neighboring districts, it was announced today.

Under the revision, the beginning salary for certified teachers in the local school system will be $5,000 with anual raises of $200 until the various maximums are

GOP Facing Challenge

Split Threatens 'Ev, Charlie' Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie" leadership team is having its troubles with Republicans in Congress threatening to ride off in different directions on some major issues.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana face some challenges from bucking members who ordinarily would be satisfied with their conservative course.

Dirksen's difficulties center around a compromise proposal to authorize President Kennedy to provide up to $100 million in financing for the United Nations.

The challenge to Halleck came from an unusual source—his own party's national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

Without consulting Halleck, Miller has tried to drum up support for a GOP substitute for the administration's plan to link medical care for the elderly to the Social Security system. Halleck thus far has given no sign he is willing to buy the substitute.

Dirksen, who usually supports the administration on major foreign policy action, believed he had quieted most Republican opposition to Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds by agreeing to a substitute worked out by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and others.

This would have authorized the President to loan the U.N. up to $100 million at interest terms and length of time he might fix. But when it became apparent that the President could purchase 25-year, 2 per cent interest U.N. bonds under this authority, conservative Republicans exploded.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, was one of those who bucked. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a spokesman for conservatives, condemned the substitute.

This left Dirksen in the position of leading a flock going in two directions, since liberal Republicans supported the proposal.

In the House, Halleck has kept his own counsel about Miller's proposal for GOP backing of a measure by Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio, to help finance medical care for the elderly through private health insurance plans.

In any showdown on the issue, party members are betting that Halleck will carry a solid majority with him.

Eight Units Would Be Broken Up

Congress Upset, Governors Next

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen opened fire today on the Army's controversial plan to break up eight battle-starred National Guard and Reserve infantry divisions.

Meanwhile, the Army braced for a salvo of objections from another flank—governors of some of the 21 states affected.

Would Prevent Action

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., predicted the plan would touch off a major battle in Congress. He said it was another example of the administration's "flaunting the will of the Congress."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said he hoped Congress would be able to prevent the action, which the Army announced late Wednesday as part of a major reorganization scheme designed to build a trim, trained and ready-to-fight Reserve and Guard.

The plan contemplates reorganizing much of the manpower in the four Guard and four Reserve divisions into eight more flexible brigades of between 3,000 and 4,500 men each. Many units now part of the divisions would be assigned to support the regular Army, if needed.

Although the Army avoided the term "eliminate," officers acknowledged that would be the practical effect. All that would be left would be their headquarters, which would supervise certain training and support operations.

The eight divisions—some with histories dating back to the Revolution and most with many battle streamers:

Those Involved

Guard—34th Division of Nebraska and Iowa; 35th of Kansas and Missouri; 43rd of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont; 41st of Florida and South Carolina.

Reserve—79th of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware; 94th of Massachusetts; 96th of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington and Nevada; 103rd of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

At the same time, the Army plans a six-division force of priority National Guard divisions that would be ticketed for early call-up in an emergency to back up the 16 regular Army divisions.

These first-ranked outfits would be kept at 75 to 80 per cent of their authorized strength, which will total about 15,000 when their structure is revamped. Most of them now number only about 9,000 men.

Priority Not Listed

The Army did not name the priority divisions, but they are expected to include the 26th Infan-

15 Partially Blind Children Read With New Lenses

BATAVIA, N. Y. (AP)—Fifteen partially blind youngsters from the New York State School for the Blind were able to read regular printed matter today for the first time.

The children were fitted Wednesday with special eyeglasses, ground from a molded plastic, with a focal length of from an inch to an inch-and-a-half. Previously the students could determine only oversized lettering.

The 15 are among 32 children at the school who were screened for the visual aids. Last April 70 youngsters were checked by ophthalmologists from the Lighthouse, operated by the New York Association of the Blind, to determine those who could profit from the low vision lenses.

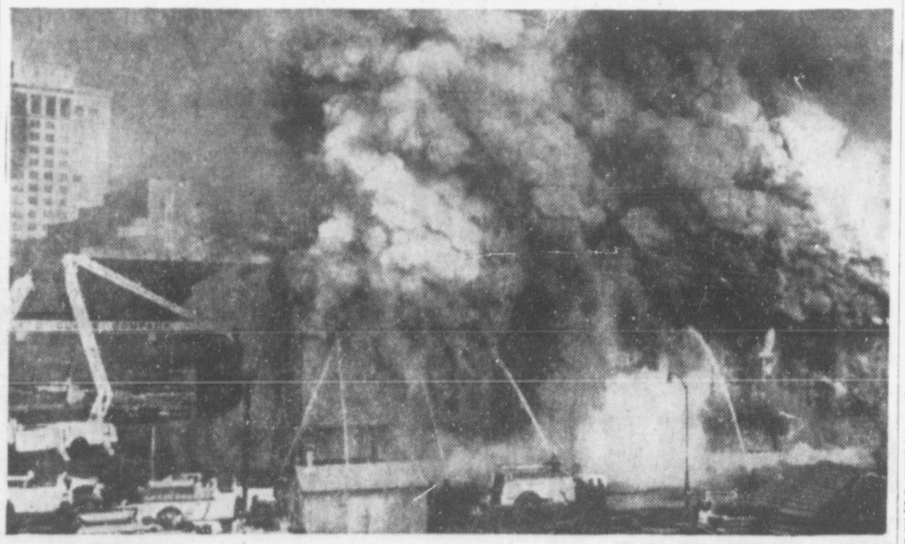

Funds for the glasses were provided by the Lions Clubs of the state, the State Commission for the Blind and Eyes for the Needy.

The students, who received the glasses all have less than 20-20s vision, or less than 10 per cent normal sight. A person with less than 10 per cent vision is legally blind.

School Superintendent Leland C. Sanborn said the students were very pleased with the results of early tests with the glasses.

"The door is now open to possibilities of vocaional training as well as general education, he said.

"It appears these visual aids will open up a new era in courses of instruction at the school where Braille has been the basis of reading and writing systems," he added.

Town Board To Get Bids On New Garage

The town board of Rosendale held its April meeting at the town clerk's office, Rosendale, Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by the town clerk Catherine O'Leary. Supervisor George Mollenhauer was unable to attend as he is a patient in an Albany hospital.

Justice Edward Brodsky was appointed chairman for the evening. Mrs. George Mollenhauer presented the reports and correspondence carried on by the office of the supervisor. Albert E. Milliken, a Kingston architect, presented plans for a new town garage that is being considered and after a few minor changes were made to the plans Justice Raymond LeFever offered a resolution that the town advertise for bids for the new building in order that the town may get an idea as to the cost of the proposed building to be built at the town owned lot on Maple Hill. This proposition was carried and bids will be offered at a later date.

A request was made for the use of the Maple Hill School House to be used for an art exhibit April 28 and 29. This request was granted with full approval of the board.

The Bloomington Fire Company Inc. asked the town board to offer a public hearing on April 25th on a proposition that the present contract with the Bloomington Fire Protection District be voided and a new contract with the fire company be made calling for an outlay of $5000 per year as the fire company is unable to continue to offer protection at the present rate of $2500. This proposition was granted by the board.

A petition with a long list of signatures was presented by the people of Bloomington asking that a street light be placed at the intersection of Greenkill Road and Slater Street hoping that such light might tend to discourage prowlers and undesirable people from gathering in this vicinity. The request was to be held over until the next meeting in order to give the board time to consider the proper procedure to be taken.

Ernest Hopper asked for permission to use two of the town's voting booths and two ballot boxes for use in the coming election to be held by the Kingston Consolidated Schools. The permission was granted.

A long discussion followed and many presented their views on the assessment rate given to the town by the state board of equalization which dropped the town the past year and many felt this cut should be thoroughly investigated before the town was set back again. The town attorney, Lloyd R. LeFever will be asked for his opinion and action on this matter which is of interest to every taxpayer in the town.

Dismissal Asked Of Rutland Move To Halt Service

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—A union attorney moved dismissal of a petition for abandonment of service on the Rutland Railway Wednesday as testimony ended in the lengthy Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the petition.

Atty. Donald W. Fisher contended the railroad had failed to make an adequate case for abandonment.

ICC Hearing Examiner Clarence K. Young ruled Fisher's motion would go before the full commission. A railway attorney, G. Clark Cummings, said he will oppose the motion in his brief.

Young summed up his impressions of the hearing by saying, "We have a railroad here which, while it is a marginal operation, does show a slight profit. There has been evidence of a good deal of interest by shippers and communities along the line."

Young said he was not judging the case at this time, but suggested that abandonment might be the answer to restoring service, presumably by other operators.

Gov. F. Ray Keyser Jr., said he is planning another appeal to union and management to rstore interim service on the 331-mile line tied up by a strike since September.

He told a news conference in Montpelier that he will ask both parties to agree to an emergency service order from the ICC.

Young gave counsel for the groups involved until June 11 to file briefs before the full commission. The examiner's recommendation is expected to be ready late in June.

Mental Health Unit Schedules Luncheon Apr. 10

Theme of lectures for the year chosen by the education committee of the Mental Health Association is Social Factors in Mental Illness.

At a meeting of the association held recently at the George Washington School, Dr. Algernon Black, a leader of the Ethical Culture Movement of New York City, a radio personality and author of the book The Young Citizens, was guest speaker.

Dr. Black stated that ethics and mental health are one. "Man is priceless and should be treated as having value in himself," Dr. Black said. "People should respect one another and treat each other as having value, even though at times the individual may not merit it."

The speaker said that a mentally healthy person must accept himself and have confidence in himself. "He must be able to love, play, work and accept the good things in the world." the speaker said. "The family should receive and give affection in order that the child can grow emotionally. Children must be given more responsibilities and schools must provide more of a purpose and challenge."

Dr. Black emphasized that the best medicine in mental health is a preventative one. "Since we know the basic needs of a child we should be able to help and be ready to face the future with realism and optimism," Dr. Black said.

A qustion and answer period was held prior to adjournment.

Mrs. Frieda Dingee, association president, conducted the meeting and announced that on April 10, the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies will hold a luncheon meeting at Kingston Hotel, when reports will be presented on Family Services Agencies. Reservations may be made with Mrs. John Cooke, 90 St. James Street.

Mrs. John Egbert, co-chairman with Mrs. Charles Forst of the volunteer's committee, reported on the dress salon conducted at Middletown State Hospital on March 23. Mrs. Egbert said an exhibit of articles made by patients at the hospital in their occupational therapy work will be on sale at the Art Crafts Gallery, 694 Broadway, April 26, 27, and 28 from 1 to 4:30 p. m.

Proceeds of the sale will be used for materials for occupational therapy. Items on sale will include needlework, toys, aprons, paintings and others.

Dr. Eugene Link, chairman of the education committee, spoke briefly at the meeting and introduced the guest speaker.

Albany Solons Unmoved By Liquor Complaints From Out-of-Staters

By MICHAEL KEATING

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York officials seem unimpressed by an increasingly noisy campaign in adjacent states against this state's minimum drinking age of 18.

The agitation has a long history but the intense campaign to raise the legal drinking age is of more recent origin.

Unmoved by Complaints

Gov. Rockefeller and majority Republican legislative leaders—who presumably have the power to change New York policy—appear unmoved by the complaints now heard almost daily from the governors or other officials of Connecticut, New Jersey or Pennsylvania, where youths cannot buy liquor until they are 21.

Gov. John N. Dempsey of Connecticut is talking about a "March on Albany" by the governors of the three states. State police in the neighboring states have been setting up special patrols to check young drivers returning home from a night in New York State bars. The states contend these youngsters become involved in traffic accidents and other troubles.

New York politicians, by their indifference, indicate belief that public opinion has not crystalized behind the agitation in other states.

N.Y. Thinking First

The attitude of out-of-staters exercises little influence at New York polls, and New York politicians, with control of the state at issue next November, are concerned primarily with New York thinking.

The only agency in New York that makes much fuss about the drinking age is the State Council of (Protestant) Churches. It has been at the job for many unsuccessful years.

If New Yorkers are concerned about the problem, there is little evidence in Albany. One seldom hears a legislator mention the subject. Lawmakers introduced 77 liquor-control bills in the recently concluded legislative session. Only a couple dealt with the drinking age. Four liquor bills now are before the governor for action, none applying to the drinking age.

Rocky Stays Aloof

The governor has shown no interest in becoming involved in the drinking-age controversy. In appearances at meetings of the Council of Churches, he has indicated he does not believe the 18-year-old age is much of a factor in whatever youthful drinking problems exist. Rockefeller has said he believes parents set the tone for youthful drinking.

The governor, reared in an abstemious Baptist family, limits himself to an occasional glass of aperitif wine.

A Joint Legislative Committee charged with looking into all New York drinking laws heard much testimony last year pro and con but promised only to continue its work this year with special attention to the subject of youthful drinking. This has been done previously, however, without change in the law.

Hurley Grangers Arrange Program For Memorial Day

Plans for the annual observace of Memorial Day and a sewing contest were discussed at the March meeting of the Hurley Grange.

Marching units, a speaker and organizational and individual participation for the May 30 program are being sought by the Grange committee in charge of the event. The Grange will discuss at the next meeting the proposed relocating of a memorial plaque recently displaced by a new road construction project in the community.

A sewing contest is planned for May 10 and is open to needle and thread experts or beginners. Seven entries have been submitted to date.

Miss Mary Lou Rice of the Ulster County 4-H Clubs office acquainted Grange members with the county and local 4-H Club organizational makeup. She noted that Ulster county has 830 club members, 623 girls in homemaking units and 207 boys and girls participating in agricultural work. Hurley, she said, has 100 members divided amongst eight clubs.

After the meeting members participated in a social program.

A tableau, portraying a family's evening at home, was presented. The cast comprised Mrs. Helen Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Piltz, Mrs. Ann Womsley, Frank Krutzfeldt, Mrs. Marion Gunning and Mrs. Ruth Moore.

At the April 14 meeting of the Plattekill Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lasher and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kearney are scheduled to receive their third and fourth degrees.

CANCER PROGRESS YEAR

The American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute have designated 1962 as Cancer Progress Year in an effort to point up the advances made against cancer in the last 25 years.

While they cannot offer anything as spectacular as the man in space science has given us, they can show, in human terms, dramatic and remarkable results. Twenty-five years ago about 160,000 persons were alive, cured of cancer. Today there are more than 1,100,000. The number is increasing each day.

The cure rate for cancer climbed from one out of seven in the late 1930's to one out of three in the late 1950's. Today, according to the Society, it could be one out of two if all cancers were diagnosed early and treated promptly.

While the final conquest of cancer is not in sight, the Society and the Institute can take great satisfaction in their uphill struggle. In 1962 some 42,000 men, women and children will be saved from cancer who would have died had they developed the disease 10 years ago. This is indeed compelling reason for all to join in observing Cancer Progress Year.

Progress against cancer is attributed to two major factors. First, developments in research which have resulted in new diagnostic techniques and improved methods of treatment. Second, response to public and professional education which has resulted in earlier detection, prompt treatment and better, more available facilities.

Among the goals of Cancer Progress Year are, "to intensify the efforts being made to persuade the public to act for its own protection, to improve the care of the cancer patient, and to step up all programs to speed the final victory over cancer." Final victory will come from the laboratory, and while today we are in the midst of the most massive research attack ever launched against a disease, there is still great need for expanding the cancer research effort.

These are worthy goals. The best way to observe Cancer Progress Year is to have a health checkup and to make a contribution to the American Cancer Society's April Crusade.

It is not true, says an auto manufacturer, that "automation is making a large segment of our population redundant." But he'll have to admit that it makes idle workers abundant.

NO ACCOUNTING FOR TASTES

Change, the one great certainty, makes itself felt in every facet of American existence. Long since it has invaded our tables, as we have steadily loaded our diet more heavily with meat, poultry and eggs, while cutting down on potatoes.

That old staple, bread by the loaf, has been losing ground for years. Still, it comes as a mild surprise to learn that U.S. bakeries in the years 1947-58 produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, rye and whole wheat bread per person.

Looking at breadstuffs altogether, the loss is not quite total. For the average person in that period ate an extra three pounds of rolls and buns and nearly as much more raisin and diet bread.

Like most everything else about us, our palates seem over the years to have become increasingly specialized — and more demanding.

NO MORE 'WIFE TESTS'

Most Americans will be relieved at Navy Secretary Korth's elimination of the "wife test" from the standard fitness rating for Navy officers. The idea that officer-wife teams should be rated for effectiveness as "representatives of the Navy and the nation on foreign stations" may have some sense in it, but judgment of all officers on this basis might hold back good men whose command abilities the Navy could ill afford to lose.

This was essentially the reasoning that went into Korth's shift of policy. It is worth noting that the policy was reviewed because of criticism of the rating system. The criticism was sound. The Navy was ill-advised to try developing its own equivalent of the "corporation wife" system that afflicts business.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

AM I A SQUARE?

Every day, when I pick up the newspapers, I see articles and photographs about the private lives of Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher and somebody called Burton. And I am strictly bored. Does that make me a square?

According to the publicity and the photographs, the aforementioned Liz and Burton are in a picture called "Cleopatra" which, 'tis said, costs $32,000,000, which is a whale of a lot of money and which will take some doing to get it back. The also aforesaid Eddie is not in the picture.

Yet, I am told that all around there are eight or nine children involved in this exhibitionism and that sooner or later they will read the press items and see the pictures and they will, if they are properly reared, be ashamed or maybe they will become juvenile delinquents out of hatred and spite, or maybe they will go and do likewise when they grow up on the principle that it happened to them, why not to me?

The adults in this business have become a bore. Every time this Liz Taylor gets out of one husband and procures another, the publicity becomes fierce. I recall the woman when she was much younger and prettier. I saw her walking down Park Avenue, holding hands, with someone she was about to marry, also young. It looked very romantic.

Then I saw her on the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf with another husband and she looked more womanly and harder. I never saw her in the company of the late Mike Todd, which I am told was an experience for the onlooker.

Eddie Fisher I only saw once, in the Stork Club. He was about to marry Debbie Reynolds and her people were with them — nice, simple, American people. It all looked so sentimental. Burton, I never saw face to face and therefore cannot say anything about him.

As I get the story, Fisher has two children by Debbie Reynolds; he has adopted Mike Todd's child by Elizabeth Taylor and an Italian child; Taylor had two children by her second husband, Wilding, but none by her first husband, Nicky Hilton, son of the hotel keeper. There is no offspring from Fisher but Burton has two children by his current wife.

Since the time of Nell Gwyn, it has been notorious that some ladies of the stage are more interested in their post-theatrical lives than in thespian responsibilities. In our age, this is encouraged because it brings the curious to the theatre to see what the person looks like. Often the bark is worse than the bite, manufactured by press agents because it has heretofore been good business to have a bad reputation. Undoubtedly a leading opponent of the vilification of Hollywood's reputation has been Walter Wanger, the producer of "Cleopatra." Time after time, he has protested against the breaking up of families by press agents.

It is therefore difficult to believe that Wanger would be a party to the publicizing of the love affairs of Elizabeth Taylor, now in its fifth edition. However, whoever put up $32,000,000 to make a picture of the utterly amoral Cleopatra, who was married to her brother and then cavorted with the Romans as they came into her country, may have an interest.

Shakespeare and George Bernard Shaw wrote footnotes to Cleopatra's career and were it not for that, the maid would undoubtedly be forgotten by now, when we have Nasser, the Puritan, in control of her country. But the movies will rehabilitate her as the Queen-courtesan, and young ladies will thrill at the identification as they sit in a darkened temple, lustfully holding hands with the latest swain.

Must there be so much sincerity that one who plays a part, must also live the part? The great Sarah Bernhardt or even greater Rachel did feel their parts movingly and Anna Held, back in the days of the Rumanian Yiddish Theatre, was a problem to Abraham Goldfaden, her first impresario — so much a problem that he found it convenient to send her to a cigar-maker countryman of his in London by the name of Ziegfeld, whose son in due course became such a glorified figure in the American theatre.

But what of the children of these smashed homes? What becomes of them? It is a sociological problem in the formation of character.

★ The Doctor Says ★

Actions You Can Take For Cancer Prevention

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here are some of the things you can do to prevent cancer and to make it possible for your doctor to detect and cure a malignancy in its earliest stages:

Make semi-annual visits for a complete physical examination. Call to your doctor's particular attention any lump or sore on skin or mucus surfaces, especially if the lump has shown evidence of growth and the sore has refused to heal or has even spread.

At these semi-annual visits, you must be prepared for your doctor to pay particular attention to breasts and body cavities and to take specimens for microscopic examination. If he cannot obtain material from the surface of a structure where cancers are frequently found, such as the mouth of the womb, he may have to remove a small sample under local anesthesia.

When you visit your dentist, call to his attention any pressure areas in your mouth, such as those due to jagged teeth or ill-fitting dentures. If you have a sore or a white spot (leukoplakia) where pressure has been exerted, ask whether refrral to a specialist is advisable.

If you are exposed on the job to a cancer-producing chemical (carcinogen), follow instructions for prevention as detailed by your employer, your union agent or a government official. If you do not work in an organized industry and you think you may be exposed in your job to one of these dangerous chemicals, make inquiry of your local health officer or write the state or federal Department of Labor.

Do not permit yourself to suffer overexposure to sunlight either on the job or at play. Except for 10 to 15 minutes of daily exposure, it's best to wear a hat and light protective clothing, particularly if you have warts or moles anywhere on your skin surfaces. It's no guarantee to smear your skin with so-called "sun protective" products.

Best to shun cosmetics that contain hormones.

Best to shift from cigarettes to a pipe or cigars.

Except for short periods under very special circumstances, do not take courses of injections with sex hormones.

Have your sons circumcised when they're about a week or two old.

And last, but by no means least, don't erase many of the benefits you may derive from these precautions by making yourself and everyone around you miserable as a result of your anxieties and fears.

Now, Down to Serious Business

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Attacking the Latin-American Alliance for Progress is currently a leading indoor international sport. Most of the criticism comes from those who do not like what it is trying to do and so try to block methods of doing it.

The alliance is being criticized in the United States as another boondoggle — more billions down the foreign aid drain. There also are doubts that the Latin Americans themselves will put in necessary reforms or contribute to their own development.

In Latin America, says Dr. Jorge Sol Castellanos of El Salvator, director of the Organization of American States Department of Social Affairs, the alliance is being attacked politically by both the extreme right and left.

Dr. Sol, 46, has a master's degree in public administration from Harvard and has served as minister of economy for El Salvador and as executive director of the International Monetary Fund for Central America and the Caribbean. He was one of the organizers of the so-called Central American Common Market and was in charge of technical preparation of the Alliance for Progress Charter. So he should know the whole situation.

COMMUNISTS AND ULTRA-CONSERVATIVES have been strange political bedfellows before, Dr. Sol declares. But today the Communists are charging that the Alliance for Progress Charter is just a lot of lies — Yankee imperialist promises which conceal the continued efforts of American capitalists to exploit Latin America and its people for U. S. enrichment.

The extreme rightists in Latin America attack the alliance for other reasons, principally selfish. The Latin American economy is still 60 to 70 per cent agricultural. The 10 per cent who own 90 per cent of the land don't want land reform. They don't want tax refrom. So they attack the alliance which seeks to diversify the Latin American economy by industrialization and raising the standard of living.

One of the most serious problems facing the new alliance say Dr. Sol, is it public relations. Most of the newspapers are conservative, controlled by the land-owning class. So the press has criticized the alliance ever since it was conceived and busies itself printing attacks on the alliance made by its critics and detractors in the United States.

RADIO AND TELEVISION stations, started on newer, shoestring capital, are more progressive. Helped by the Voice of America and U. S. Information Services, Latin American broadcasters are offering much free time to tell the alliance story.

Dr. Raul Prebisch of the Argentine presents the situation from another angle. He has been director general of the United Nations Commission for Latin America — ECLA — since 1948.

Economic development in Latin America is nothing new to him. He was founder and director of the Argentine Central Bank from 1935 to 1943, giving up his job under Peron. He is rated one of the best economists in all Latin America.

His job in the Alliance for Progress is to co-ordinate the work of the "Nine Wise Men," the committee of experts who will assist the Latin American countries in their economic planning.

ADMITTING THAT INFORMATION about the alliance is inadequate in both North and South America, Dr. Prebisch declares that one of the great mistakes has been to try to sell this as something made in U.S.A. and delivered to Latin America only on condition that its governments make many needed reforms.

These reforms cannot be made overnight, Dr. Prebisch points out. When a friend recently told him, "I am now completely disenchanted with the Alliance for Progress," Dr. Prebisch replied, "I have never been enchanted with it. There is nothing magic about it. It cannot be created by waving a wand. It will take patience and persistence to get the Latin countries to make their own economic plans, mobilize their resources and pool them with the outside help now being made available through the Alliance as an incentive."

It took four years for the Marshall Plan to show results in the reconstruction of Europe after the war. Dr. Prebisch believes that Latin America, which does not have the resources nor the skilled manpower, should begin to show results in less than five years.

Eventually, predicts Teodoro Moscoso of Puerto Rico, now U.S. AID administrator for the alliance, the same forces that operated in Europe will operate even more powerfully in Latin America, unleashing the dynamic new forces now seen in the Common Market after 14 years of unity. That is the long view.

So They Say..

I simply don't like the idea of Congress being thought of as a kindly old uncle who complains, but who finally, as everyone expects, gives in (to the President) and raise his hand in blessing, and then rocks in his chair for another year, glancing down the avenue . . . wondering whether he's done the right thing.

—Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga.

In lashing out at a vast, overwhelming, irresistible Communist "take-over," the rightists are not only overselling communism. Worse, they are underselling America — and underselling as well the stubborn will to be free.

—Adlai E. Stevenson.

Today in National Affairs

How's Business? Query Draws a Confusing Reply

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "How's business?" Time was when business men asked this question of one another, and the net impression they got—either favorable or unfavorable — seemed plausible and made sense to them. But today the national economy is more complex than ever, and the statements issued from Washington are full of wishful thinking and political implications. So it's difficult to sift the data and come up with a clear answer to what's really happened—let alone what's going to happen in business, even within a year.

A couple of months ago, for instance, the Kennedy administration was issuing some glowing forecasts about the national output for 1962 and about the upward trend of the economy. But now it seems that these same forecasts were too optimistic. Thus, one reads a dispatch of United Press International a few days ago which says:

"Commerce Secretary Hodges said today that the recent failure of the economy to live up to the Kennedy administration's forecast probably would extend through June. His statement at a news conference was the first public acknowledgement by a high official that the Administration's forecast that the economy would rise to between $565 billion and $570 billion by midyear was too rosy . . . .

"Commerce Department experts have made a preliminary estimate that gross national product rose modestly in January, February and March to a new high annual rate of $548 billion."

What Really Matters

But how can one get an understanding of what goes on by focusing on such big figures alone? Obviously, as population grows and there is an increased demand for things, the total volume of transactions goes up. What really matters is the profits earned on all these transactions and the number of persons employed or unemployed as well as the total personal income available with which to buy things. Four per cent unemployed means a lot of people, even though it looks like a small percentage. Also, fairly large "areas of substantial and persistent unemployment," as they are officially labeled by the government, number today more than 120 throughout the country.

The Government reported, too, a few days ago that living costs has risen to a new high in February, and hence the record of six months of price stability was impaired. This means that the purchasing power of the dollar is again unsteady.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Department of Labor this week revealed that manufacturing industries increased their work rolls only slightly in February and showed a disappointing trend downward as compared with January. It said the number of hirings "declined somewhat more than seasonally."

Now, everybody who follows the economic picture closely knows that there has been a slump on the durable-goods side. The Kennedy administration has come up with proposals to help encourage plant investment temporarily, but these are not of the long-range kind and do not permit the sort of planning that would really expand the economy.

When the volume of business, moreover, merely is increased in quantity without increasing total profits, the tax revenues which the U. S. Treasury expects to receive are bound to be disappointing. Already the 1963 federal Budget—originally predicted by President Kennedy as likely to be balanced—now is expected to be deep in the red.

As for profits, the First National City Bank of New York has a staff of able and impartial economists who regularly make a comprehensive study of the profit picture. The bank's letter for April, just released, tells the naked truth about profits as follows:

"Currently, there is much talk of corporate profits surpassing all previous records. Both government and private economists have forecast pretax profits for 1962 far exceeding the previous peak of $46.8 billion in 1959. President Kennedy, at a news conference last month, cited newspaper reports that profits in the fourth quarter had already surpassed the previous quarterly peak of $51.5 billion reached in the second quarter of 1959 just before the steel strike.

"But all this talk of new records should not be permitted to obscure the fact that corporate earnings have failed to keep up with other indices of economic growth in the postwar period. Rising prices in recent years have inflated dollar figures. This has tended to hide the fact that profits have actually been losing ground even when new records are apparently being set . . . .

"The profit squeeze has been especially intense in manufacturing, where earnings have been under pressure from unrelenting increases in employment costs, taxes, and other expenses at a time when markets have been highly competitive and under-capacity operations in many lines have hampered efforts to improve efficiency."

Apart from all the figures and economic analyses, there remains one big psychological factor—confidence or lack of confidence by business men in the President, his advisers and the Democratic-controlled Congress. Business men are cautious and worried about Washington. The Administration has been in office more than a year now, but it has not yet come to grips with the fundamentals of an expanding economy, especially in the field of proper allowances for depreciation of plant and equipment which are so sorely needed in the durable-goods industries.

Old Timer's Civil War Notes

By C. A. WINCHELL, Shokan, N. Y.

July 15, 1863, following the great victories of the Union forces in Pennsylvania and on the Mississippi, the people of Ulster County were giving attention to President Lincoln's proclamation setting apart August 6 as a day for National thanksgiving, praise and prayer, and inviting loyal citizens to assemble in their customary places of worship, to "render the homage due the Divine Majesty for the wonderful things He has done in the nation's behalf."

Sunday, July 28, 1863, funeral services were held in Kingston for Orderly Sergeant John S. Snyder with members of the Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges in attendance. Sergeant Snyder, a good citizen at home and a good soldier in the field, was 40 years of age and left a family. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Charles D. Mansfield, a soldier from Warwarsing, died in University Hospital, New Orleans, June 26, 1863. He was a member of Co. D, of Ulster County's 156th Infantry Regiment which was then participating in the Louisiana Campaign. . . Capt. J. S. Corbin of Rondout who was killed at Gettysburg, leaves a wife and child. . . July 30, 1863.:

William C. Burhans and William Snyder have returned from Gettysburg bringing the remains of their brothers, John R. Burhans and Sgt. John S. Snyder, who were killed in the fighting along the Emmetsburg Road. Lieutenant Burhans was buried at Flatbush with Odd Fellows ceremony and Snyder's burial service was in charge of the Masonic Order. Mr. Burhans has visited the great battlefield and hospitals and is ready to give information to friends and relatives of soldiers in the hospitals. He is also prepared to have bodies brought home in porophine sheets by express.

Town of Shandaken veterans of service in the Union Army included Duain C. Dutcher who was born at Prattsville, April 25, 1840, one of seven children of George Jr. and Maria (Mays) Dutcher. He came to Big Indian, Ulster County, and enlisted, 1861, in the Twentieth New York State Volunteer Infantry. Assigned to the Army of the Potomac, he participated in numerous actions, including those at Norman's Ford, Sulphur Springs, Hay Market, Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam and Fredericksburg.

After serving three years, Dutcher returned home on furlough and was married to Caroline A. Birnham of Hensonville, Greene County. He then went back to the front and remained until the end of the war. An experienced stone mason, he laid up a number of bridge abutments for the new Ulster & Delaware Railroad and also the foundations for the Clinton House at Fair and North Front Streets, Kingston. Veteran Dutcher and his wife were the parents of five children.

"Gen. Wm. Tecumseh Sherman, under whom many Ulster County men in the 156th Infantry and other regiments fought, in February of 1886 declined the request of the Soldier's Bazaar at Boston for the sword which he wore during his army's famed 'March to the Sea.' The general offered the very conclusive reason that he did not wear the sword at all but he did have one personal relic which he could tender them and that was the saddle he rode during his campaigns and which he still used because it was an exceptionally good one. This was the saddle the general rode from Corinth to Chattanooga, to Atlanta and to Washington.

General Sherman was a very popular man in New York State over a period of several decades following the Civil War. Born in a small Ohio village—as were also Generals U. S. Grant and Phil Sheridan—he was a citizen of New York by choice. He had an affectionate regard for his comrades and no large gathering of old soldiers was ever considered complete without his presence. He visited all the principal cities from New York to Buffalo and everywhere was received as a beloved comrade. No great public occasion took place in New York City while Sherman lived there, at which this military genius was not an honored guest. The most amiable and lovable of men, he was also the most rigid of disciplinarians. A corps commander once said to Sherman: "General Sherman, we had trouble in enforcing strict obedience to orders, because the findings of the courts-martial had to be sent to President Lincoln and he would never approve a sentence of death. What did you do?"

"I shot them first," was the gruesome reply.—C. A. W.

Jersey Senator Urges No Federal Funds To Promote Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Jersey senator says he sees no reason why federal funds should be spent to promote the St. Law-rence Seaway since Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports finance their own promotion campaigns.

The Seaway plans to spend about $65,000 for information and related purposes during the fiscal year ending June 30, and another $65,000 during the next fiscal year.

Sen. Harrison P. Williams Jr., D-N.J., in a letter Wednesday to commerce secretary Luther H. Hodges, said that since Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports used their own money for promotion, "I cannot condone the inequity involved in the diverting of federal funds to the promotional efforts for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Rep. George Huddleston Jr., D-Ala., has introduced a bill that would prohibit the Seaway from spending any money for promotional purposes.

Additional Aid Will Make Better Schools, Says Allen

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state's new school-aid program "imposes increased responsibilities—for making certain that additional funds are used to obtain better results," the state education commissioner has informed school administrators.

Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., in a letter to the administrators, said the increased aid offered an opportunity for raising the quality of education in the schools.

School aid will be increased by $231 million over a three-year period. The program has been approved by the Legislature and Gov. Rockefeller will sign the legislation this month.

"The next step is up to us—to all who control, supervise and manage our schools," Allen said.

Penney's has pretty'd little girls since the days of pigtails and ten-penny muslin pantaloons—but, in 60 years, we've really never had this much fun! Even our innovating grandpappy buyers would never have dared this! But our bold young fellows of today went all out . . . figured nothing ventured, nothing won! Of course, she was tempted and here are —the tempting results! ### Marbletown Cub Pack

The March pack meeting of Cub Pack 16 of Marbletown was held recently at the Marbletown Elementary School. Each den was well represented for tours of the islands of Japan, Greenland, Ireland and Hawaii. Wallace Elston, cubmaster, conducted the meeting along with Arthur Sullivan, the committee chairman.

The opening ceremony consisted of the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of "America the Beautiful" by all present.

Skits were performed by the dens. Den 1 led by Mrs. John Thornton and Mrs. John Mills, displayed items of Greenland made by the boys. Den 3, led by Mrs. Robert Hornbeck and Mrs. Dalton, were attired in the garb of Ireland, and sang It's the Same Old Shillelagh Me Father Brought From Ireland. Den 4, led by Mrs. William Brownlie and Mrs. Loring, ventured to Japan, wearing their mandarin hats and regalia while displaying the Japanese items they had made. Den 5, led by Mrs. Edward Lowe and Mrs. Wallace Elston, had Paul Poenicke and Brian Lowe do an original "Hula" while the remainder of the den accompanied them on their ukes.

One of the highlights of the evening was the impressive Webelos and graduation ceremony for Stanley Krom, conducted by his father, Jerry Krom, who is the assistant cubmaster. Well deserved praise was given his parents and den mothers during his cubbing years. Assistant Scoutmaster Martin Lopiano of Troop 16, assisted by two of the scouts, were on hand to welcome him into Troop 16.

With a candlelighting ceremony, advancements included the following: Roger Nielson, Wolf badge; John Ryder, Wolf badge with 1 gold and 2 silver arrows; William Buchanan, Wolf badge; John Dorfner, 1 silver arrow under Wolf; and Brian Lowe, 1 silver arrow under Wolf.

Earning Bear badges were: Jeffrey Ryder with 1 gold and 1 silver arrow; Alan Elston with 1 gold and 1 silver arrow; James Cannizzaro with 1 gold and 4 silver arrows. William Lundy received 1 gold and 1 silver arrow under his already earned Bear badge.

Only 1 Lion badge was presented, and that to Michael Caulfield.

The following service stars were awrded: William Buchanan, 1 year, James Cannizzaro, 2 years, and Stanley Krom, 3 years.

After announcements by the committee chairman, a closing poem, "What Cub Scout Earthlings Are Made Of" was read by Mrs. Frances Ryder to close the meeting. Refreshments were then served by den 3.

Cub Scout Troubadours will be our theme for April, and the pack meeting will be held Friday, April 27, at 7:45 p. m. in the Marbletown Reformed Church in Stone Ridge.

Douglas Denies Huge Profits on Nike Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Douglas Aircraft Co. have bitterly denied they reaped excessive profits from the Army on Nike missile contracts.

Donald W. Douglas Jr., the company's president, accused aides of a Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday of manipulating figures to picture profits as too high.

"The numbers are accurate, but nobody puts their numbers together that way," Douglas said in challenging documents prepared by the subcommittee staff. These purported to show that Douglas Aircraft's profits on 17 Nike contracts in 1952-61 totaled $45.58 million but that subcontractors did most of the work.

Robert E. Dunne, staff investigator, said this was equivalent to a 44.3 per cent profit on the portions of the contracts performed by Douglas at its own plants.

Dunne said the profits, figures against the work done by Douglas and its subcontractors combined, would be 7.6 per cent on the 17 contracts totaling $952.74 million for producing various components of the Nike missile system.

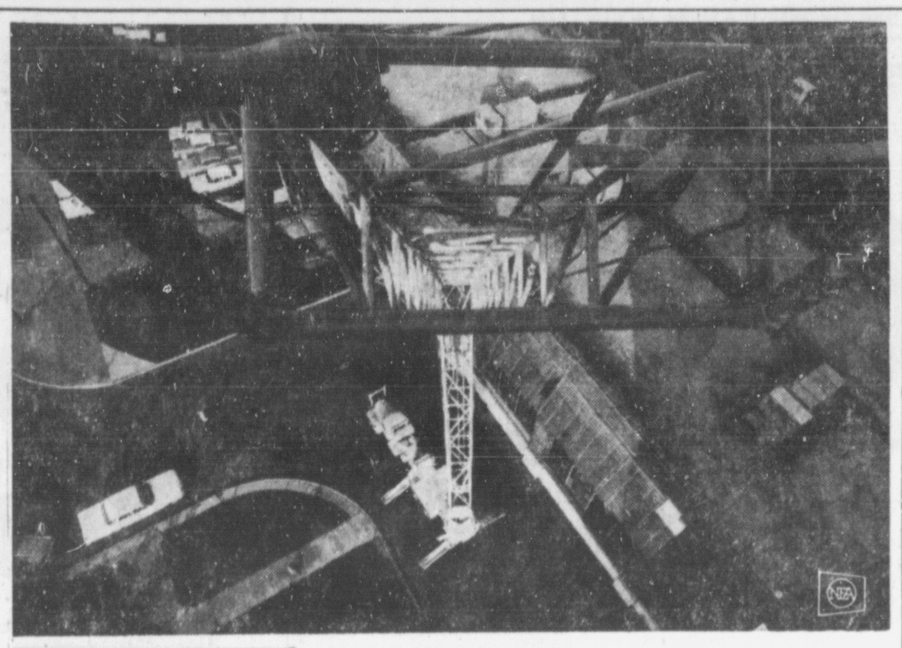

Douglas, armed with stacks of charts and flanked at the witness table by a half dozen subordinates, called this "arithmetical manipulation which borders on economic frivolity . . .a gross distortion."

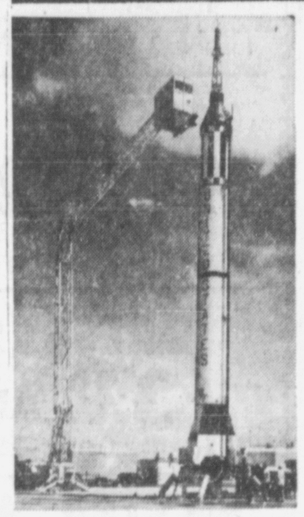

He said the contracts actually totaled $939 million, "and our profit from those sales before federal income taxes approximated $29.8 million, a rate of less than 3.2 per cent of sales." Income taxes took more than half of that profit, he added.

ASTRONAUT'S-EYE VIEW FROM A CHERRY PICKER

Familiar sight at Cape Canaveral for the Mercury-Redstone launchings of Gus Grissom and Alan Shepard was the "cherry picker," left. It was positioned beside the 83-foot missile until two minutes before blast-off as an emergency escape tower for the astronaut. For John Glenn's orbital flight, a bigger model was made (but not used) to accommodate the taller Atlas rocket. What the view is like from the top of that cherry picker is shown in top photograph. The structure extends six feet farther than the old model.

Judge Wants Fancier MarriageLicenseForms

CHICAGO (AP)—With a pretty bride and a handsome groom, it's a shame to have a plain marriage license, says Edward J. Barrett, Cook County clerk.

"The marriage licenses we've been issuing over the years aren't fancy enough," said Barrett. "They look too official."

Barrett, whose office issued 42,715 marriage licenses last year, said he's looking into redesigning the licenses and having them filled out on special typewriters using elaborate type faces. Colored ink in the typewriter ribbons, also would help, he added.

Jap Coal Miners Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's 100,000 coal miners struck for an indefinite period today after failing to reach agreement with management on pay increases and better job security.

The miners are demanding increased job security and a $3.89 monthly pay raise.

Drunken Coward, Castro Labels Ecuador's Chief

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro called Ecuador's President Carlos Arosemena a drunken coward Wednesday night and predicted he might meet a worse fate than Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

The Cuban prime minister said that Arosemena was on his way to becoming "a prisoner of the military" who, Castro said, forced Arosemena to break diplomatic relations with Cuba Tuesday.

"Any day they'll grab him and take him to an embassy," Castro said in a televised speech to the first National Congress of Young Communists.

"Any day he'll wake up in an embassy. It is possible that the military will act with him worse than with Frondizi as he has been more cowardly than Frondizi."

Argentina's military leaders ousted President Arturo Frondizi last week and imprisoned him on a naval base island off Buenos Aires.

Castro said Arosemena spent long days "completely inebriated" and that he had been known to remain intoxicated for a week. He added that photographs of the Ecuadorean president during drinking sprees exist.

There had been speculation that Castro might announce sentences for 1,179 captives of last year's Bay of Pigs invasion but he made no mention of the prisoners, whose trial ended Tuesday.

Statue to Resemble Liz

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—The manager of a museum here says a new wax figure of Cleopatra to be added soon to the museum's collection will look more like Elizabeth Taylor than the present model.

"Cleopatra had a big nose," Bus MacTaggert, the manager, said.

Hughes Bids N. Y. Revise Hearings On Drinking Age

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes has asked the New York Legislature to revise its hearing schedule to speed consideration of the problem of youthful drinking.

Hughes said Wednesday that he had written Sen. John J. Marchi, Republican, of Staten Island, and asked him to reschedule the hearing now set for this summer.

Earlier, Hughes had asked Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to call a special legislative session to consider raising the state's minimum drinking age from 18 to 21. Hughes and governors of other neighboring states have protested that the lower minimum drinking age in New York encourages minors to drive to New York to buy liquor.

Rockefeller told Hughes that a decision on the special session would have to wait until the conclusion of the hearing conducted by the joint legislative committee for the revision of New York's alcoholic beverage control law. Marchi heads the committee.

3 Children Die In Coney Blaze

NEW YORK (AP)—Three children died Wednesday in a flash fire that destroyed their Coney Island home. The fire gutted three adjoining bungalows before it was brought under control.

The children were: Carlos Delgardo, 4, his brother, William, 3, and a sister, Lidia, 2. The tots had been playing in a bedroom which contained a gas heater.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Delgardo, in another bedroom when the fire broke out, were unable to rescue the children. They were treated for burns at a hospital.

A fourth Delgardo child, Georgia, 7, was at school.

Rescue the Rescuer

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Vickie Damron climbed a tree to rescue a cat. The cat climbed down. Firemen rescued Vickie from her perch some 30 feet up the tree.

PUC Is Against PR, NYC Merger

BOSTON (AP) — A proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads "would adversely affect the financially distressed New England railroads," the New England Conference of Public Utilities Commissioners says.

The conference voted Wednesday to oppose the merger application and testify when the merger comes before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In a resolution, they said the adverse affect on New England railroads would have a "consequent adverse effect on the New England economy."

10 Days in Cellar Weakens Defendant

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The trial of a man who apparently lived for 10 days in the basement of a drug store has been postponed until Friday because he was too sick to be brought to court.

The clerk of Recorder's Court said that Keith Healy, 42, who was supposed to have faced a drunkenness charge Wednesday, was in no condition to appear.

The store manager, R. M. Harrell, said he found Healy surrounded by 13 bottles of bay rum, a gallon of barbecue sauce, a gallon of soft drink syrup, 14 pounds of candy, a box of cigars and a can of cranberry sauce—all from the store's stocks.

Surgery, Slander Suit Successful for Wald

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film producer Jerry Wald emerged in excellent condition from surgery—and from a $3-million slander suit.

Wald, 49, underwent a lower spinal operation at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday and is expected to remain there a week or 10 days.

He discovered after coming out of the operating room that a Superior Court jury had returned a verdict in his favor in a slander action brought by Jaik Rosenstein, publisher of the magazine Hollywood Close-Up.

Rosenstein said Wald made slanderous remarks about him in 1959. Wald said Rosenstein told him "I'm going to blast you" after Wald stopped advertising in Rosenstein's magazine.

Thigh Bone Is That Of Jefferson Mammoth

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 49-inch-long thigh bone, now in the state museum, has been identified as that of a Jefferson's Mammoth, the first remains of the animal in New York State.

The State Education Department said Wednesday that from the thigh bone, the height of the animal was estimated at 11 feet at the shoulders, slightly larger than a present-day African elephant.

The bone was unearthed along with several smaller bones last may during road construction near Ossining. At first, it was believed to have been that of a wooly mammoth.

Wolly mammoths usually were about 9 feet tall at the shoulders, comparable to the present-day Indian elephant.

The larger mammoth, an ancestor of the modern elephant, was named after President Thomas Jefferson, an amateur paleontologist. The mammoth was common in the midwest and southeast 20,000 to one million years ago.

INHERIT THE EARTH—How many people have ever lived on earth? The answer is only an educated guess, but the Population Reference Bureau estimates 77 billion. They assume the emergence of man about 600,000 years ago. Some anthropologists would place it another million years before that. Of the 77 billion, only 12 billion lived before 6,000 B.C. It has taken hundreds of thousands of years for man's numbers to reach the present three billion. Yet in only 40 more years, if current trends continue, the population will double. In chart, Old Stone Age to be in scale should extend 35 feet to left.

A Special Review by 6-Year-Old

What Circus Looks Like To Youngster in Garden

By PETER AMBRO JR.
(As told to his mother,
Henrietta Leith Ambro,
AP Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't the first time I went to the circus, but when I was 4 or 5 I used to get tired and want to go home.

I didn't get tired Wednesday night because I'm 6 years old and big enough to stay to the end, and I'm sure glad I did.

It was the first night that the circus was in Madison Square Garden, which is so big that practically I bet this is almost the whole world. I bet only two or three people were left in New York City.

First we went downstairs to the side show and the first thing I saw was a cute little dwarf clown about as tall as I am, who held his hand out for me to shake.

We saw a lady lion named Sonia and a daddy lion named Melvin and a cage with millions and trillions of monkeys. I counted 15.

Likes Sword Swallower

The best in the sideshow was the lady that swallowed the swords, and when she swallowed three at one time I said "oh, man."

When the (Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey) show started on the big circus stage there was a man balancing glasses with water in it on a glass bench on a long stick and balancing it right on his nose. And he threw it up and caught it on his hand.

Then he put the glasses with water in them on top of about five stories of glasses and put it down on a bench and took it off again. Then he did it with about 18 stories of glasses.

A man came out then on a very large horse and I thought this was the best act so far, because I like horses. This horse danced to the music, and once he danced on his hind legs.

After that was a lady standing upside down on her head on the trapeze without holding on, and lots of other ladies swinging around on high ladders. This was kinda mysterious. There were a lot of acts like this, and my mother likes them and thinks they're very dangerous but I look around at the other people sitting near us.

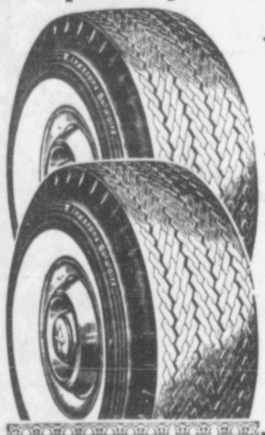

The most exciting was shooting the man and lady from a great big cannon up in the air and down into a net.

But what I liked best was the clowns—they're my favorite.

A lot of clowns were dressed up like ladies and were fighting over something at a bargain.

I think clowns are real funny. No wonder they call them clowns.

Citizens Group Answers Query On Bond Issue

The Citizens' Advisory Committee has been asked this question by one taxpayer: Why should I, an older resident in the Saugerties Central School District, be compelled to help finance new buildings for children of families that are moving into the District? This is a good question and deserves a straightforward answer.

The first answer is that the assessed value of the district tends to increase at the same rate as attendance of pupils increases; and as school taxes increase. The reason for this is, that every time a new family moves into the district it moves into a house and pays taxes on that house and, unless that house is assessed at a lower rate than the rate on the older houses in the district, the newcomer must pay his share—in fact, all the newcomers put together, should theoretically finance the cost of all new buildings. To some degree, it is not true that the newcomer would finance all new construction because school buildings become old and outworn and must be replaced. Even if no new people came into the district, there comes a time when the old school buildings must be either renovated or entirely replaced. That has been true in this district, and still is true.

Secondly, it is difficult to find a community in America today, which is alive, that is not growing. Communities that do not grow tend to become ghost towns and the value of the property in them declines in value. Such communities tend to become ones in which many people would prefer not to live. Such communities tend to lack modern facilities, such as good roads, good stores, theaters, job opportunities, good public utilities, and so on.

Thirdly, a former resident of a district—this district or any other—must realize that the major costs of education, i. e., the major part of the school tax dollar, goes not for new buildings but for instruction, teachers, textbooks, and instructional supplies. The costs are rising and will probably continue to rise. They tend to rise even in the oldest and smallest and most decadent school districts.

Fourth, to whatever extent the assessed value in this district fails to keep pace with enrollments is a reflection of a nationwide picture, not of the local scene alone. The Research Department of the National Education Association indicates that, whereas there were 21,000,000 children of school age in the United States in 1900, there were 40,000,000 between the same ages in the year 1957. In 1960, there were 45,000,000 between the ages of five and 17. Thus, it becomes evident that the failure of taxable property in Saugerties to keep pace with the increase in the number of children is not a local fact. It is a fact that prevails throughout the United States. There are more children per house today than there were 20 years ago or even 10 years ago and this is true almost everywhere in America, not in Saugerties alone.

The influx of children into the population creates a school tax burden greater than in the past. The committee asks what would happen to this country in competition with Russia and other potential competitors if our population were not growing as it is? "Everyone, both the old and the middle-aged, have a stake in the youth of their country. It is the youths who keep America prosperous by creating a demand for goods of all kinds, including housing, in the form of tax resource. It is the youth of this country that will fight its future wars. Whether we like it or not, we cannot escape the responsibility for educating our young people."

Church Council Hears of Local Gideon Works

The monthly meeting of the Saugerties Area Council of Churches was held Monday night in the parish hall of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp. After a roast beef dinner was served by Mrs. John Prendergast and her assistants, the group retired to the Pine Rooms for the business meeting, the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, presiding.

Guest speaker of the evening was Calvin Cody of Malden, a member of the Gideons. He explained the Gideons' method of distributing New Testaments to school children on a request basis and told of the Saugerties Board of Education's refusal to grant permission for such a program in Saugerties. The council of churches previously had protested this opinion of the board but the board refused to rescind its action. Since distribution of the Bible is permitted in other school districts, the council voted to ask the State Board of Education what the law rules on this matter.

Final plans were made for the three-hour Good Friday service to be held in the Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Saugerties, from noon to 3 p. m. April 20. An Easter dawn service will be held in Seamon Park April 22 6:30 p. m. Dr. Vernon Kooy of New Brunswick Theological Seminary will be the guest preacher.

Monetary gifts were made to the mid-Hudson Migrant Committee for its ministry to migrants in the area; and to the Rip Van Winkle Council of the Boy Scouts of America for its summer chaplaincy program at Camp Tri-Mount.

As the council cannot legislate action for its member churches, it was voted to commend to its churches the American Legion's program of bell ringing at 1 p. m. on Patriot's Day, April 19. Final action will be taken to the individual churches.

The next meeting will be held at the Katsbaan Reformed Church April 30.

Jaycees Launch Operation Pride

This spring the Saugerties Jaycees will launch Operation Pride, to promote individual and mass pride in the appearance of the community.

As the first step for Operation Pride the Jaycees are sponsoring a contest to obtain ideas on what can be done to improve the general appearance of the Saugerties community. Other Operation Pride projects are planned by the Saugerties Jaycees and will be announced in the future.

The Saugerties Jaycees will award a $25 bond to the person who can supply the best answer to the question—What would you do to improve the appearance of the community if given a budget of $100 and 100 man hours of labor to accomplish it? Also needed for Operation Pride is an appropriate slogan. A suggested slogan should accompany each entry so that if equally good ideas are submitted the slogan entry will be the basis for breaking a tie. The winner of this contest will be selected by three impartial judges based on the following rules:

All entries must be mailed on or before April 30. In the case of duplicate ideas and slogans the one with the earliest postmark will be considered.

The area selected to be improved must be within the confines of the village of Saugerties.

The cost of the project idea submitted cannot exceed $100 in total cost and require more than 10 man-hours of labor to be completed.

The project idea must be one that can de done within the jurisdiction of the Saugerties Jaycees.

The project idea should not involve the improvement of personally owned property whereby the owner of such property would benefit.

All entries must be accompanied by a slogan for the Operation Pride project. In the event of a tie the slogan will be the tie breaker.

All entries become the property of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce and may be used or disposed of as they see fit.

Fallout Shelter Open for Tour

The demonstration fallout shelter built last year in the Municipal Parking lot will be open to the public April 21. Appropriate signs will be in place and up-to-date literature will be available.

The shelter was built last year by public spirited citizens in an attempt to publicize the need for fallout shelters and to encourage local citizens to build shelters in their homes.

The Saugerties Jaycees are in the process of preparing the shelter for open house and invite all those interested to visit the shelter between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., Saturday, April 21.

Final Lenten Chowder Sale Set at W. Camp

The third and final Lenten clam chowder sale of the season will be held Friday, April 13 between 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. at the parish hall of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp.

West Camp Auxiliary will be in charge of the preparation and sale. As the supply is limited and usually sold out before the sale begins, patrons are asked to order chowder in advance by calling any member of the auxiliary.

Members who may be reached by phone are Mrs. Harry L. Moose of West Camp; Mrs. Rodney Lasher of Saugerties; Mrs. J. Charles Stewart and Mrs. John Engelin of Cementon.

Nearly 200 quarts were sold during the last sale two weeks ago. Those calling for chowder should bring their own containers.

Auxiliary Campaign

The Cowles Magazine campaign is now being conducted under the sponsorship of Lamouree-Hackett Unit 72, American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Catherine Teetsel, president, announced today that area residents will be contacted by canvassers with credentials signed by the county chairman, Mrs. Edna Branigan, and Mrs. Teetsel, and persons approached should ask to see these cards.

Proceeds from the campaign will be used towards the purchase of additional sick room equipment for home use by residents of Ulster County, and may be had by request. Mrs. Edith Schaffer is the equipment chairman for the local unit.

Mrs. Teetsel expressed her appreciation for the public's cooperation in this project in the past and her hope that this year's campaign will also be generously supported.

1936 Class Reunion

Plans for a reunion of the Class of 1936 of the Saugerties High School are progressing with afternoon and evening activities scheduled for April 28, according to Mrs. William Jac[illegible] committee.

A tour of the Main Street School, which was at that time the high schol, and of the new Junior-Senior High School, Washington Avenue will start at 3:30 p. m. with a social hour to follow at 5:30 at the Flamingo on Route 9W. Dinner will be served there at 8, with dancing to follow until closing. It is anticipated that all teachers and advisors of the class will be in attendance.

Other committee members include the Mmes. William Ziegler, Floyd Shultz, Anthony Celli, Donald Genthner and Frank Greco. Reservations may be made with any of the committee.

School Library Notes

The book circulation of the Saugerties Central Schools elementary library has reached the distribution figure of 20,450 since the opening of school in September. The actual circulation figure is 81,800 for an average has been struck: the average of four children reading each book after it reaches the classroom. In addition to the book figures, the number of filmstrips distributed is 483, magazines 227, and supplementary texts 498.

Easter Egg Hunt

More than 2000 Easter eggs will be the object of Saugerties youngsters participating in this year's Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Saugerties Jaycees. The hunt, an annual affair, will take place on April 14 at Cantine Field, beginning at 11 a. m.

The event is open to all children from one to 10 years of age. Awards will be given to children in the different age groups. Jaycee Chairman for this year's is Richard Saunders.

Area Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warters of Mt. View Avenue, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, April 1, at the Kingston Hospital. They are the parents of three other children, Debra, Jeffrey and John.

Man Hit by Bat Denies Starting Fight in Grill

James Barber, complainant in an assault, second degree, action testified in County court today that he did not start a fight at Schoentag's Restaurant on June 4, 1960, but was acting as a peacemaker when he was allegedly struck by Louis S. Barone, one of the proprietors. The grand jury returned an assault indictment against Barone.

Barber testified he had visited several taverns before arriving at Schoentag's, and had had several beers. While at the Schoentag tavern he saw one, William Peetom, allegedly slap a girl who was seated at the bar. He remonstrated and a "scuffle" ensued. Peetom fell to the floor and the affray had concluded, he said when he was struck on the head with a ball bat. He alleges it was used by the defendant.

During Barber's testimony it developed a civil action had been commenced by Barber against Louis S. Barone and James Amandolo, proprietors, to recover damages.

Barber said he had been charged with disorderly conduct as a result of the event. He admitted that at the age of 16 he had taken a car of Amandola and later had been barred from the Schoentag Tavern because of a New Year's affray when Charles Marabella operated the tavern. Later when Amandola and Barone took over he called, apologized, and was given permission to visit the place. He denied any further difficulties and said he was attempting to avoid trouble on June 4, 1960, when he was allegedly assaulted.

The assault action is being tried by Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca, attorney Charles Gaffney appears for defendant.

Quits School Board

Resignation of Joseph O. Hasbrouck, a member of the Wallkill Central School District Board of Education since 1958, has been accepted with regret by the board. Hasbrouck resigned because of a press of business. Hasbrouck, a resident of Modena, was elected to a five-year term last July. The vacancy on the board will be filled at the May election. Two members of the incumbent board, Milton Van Duser and Chester Howard, have made known they will seek re-election to terms of five years each.

Hearing Adjourned

Gerard Sauer, of 28 Stuyvesant Street, was arrested by his wife, Ida, early today on a third degree assault charge. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today adjourned hearing to Friday to permit the defendant time to obtain counsel.

To Transform 16-Inch Navy Gun For Space Shot

In what might be called, "Operation Update" at Watervliet Arsenal, an ancient 16-inch Navy cannon is being transformed into an instrument of the space age.

As part of a project that will convert the obsolete weapon into a launcher for a planned probe of outer space, the Arsenal is "smooth-boring" the interior length of the 70-foot gun tube. From muzzle to breech, giant honing machines are scraping out the spiraled rifling which once directed 2,100-pound projectiles toward targets 22 miles away.

When completed the 150-ton gun will have become a smooth-walled chamber from which a probe vehicle will be hurled to explore outer space.

The gun, which has been furnished by the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D. C., is being converted on assignment from two Canadian universities, McGill in Montreal and the University of Toronto which will jointly conduct the space probe.

The Arsenal portion of the project is under the direction of Howard A. French, chief of the order processing unit.

Ferry Work Nears End

Repair work on the ferryboat Orange, disabled March 12 when it hit a submerged object in the Hudson River, should be completed in a week, according to Edward Burns, administrative assistant to the New York State Bridge Authority. Both crankshafts were bent and are being replaced. Work is being done at the Bethlehem Steel Shipyards, Hoboken, N. J., where the ferry was towed a week after the accident. Burns said the bridge saddle in Newburgh's ferry slip broke when it was bumped recently by the ferryboat Beacon. Repairs to the saddle should be completed today.

Europeans Quit Oran as French Troops Watch OAS

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Some 250 Europeans boarded planes for France Wednesday night as French troops stood guard to counter Secret Army Organization (OAS) efforts to prevent the departure.

The French air force took over administration of civilian flights to France to break the grip of secret army agents trying to keep Algeria's European population from dwindling.

The terrorist underground had threatened retaliation to those who left without its visas. Before the air force took over most planes left with empty seats.

For the past two days, big crowds of passengers have gathered at the Oran airport shortly after dawn and waited for plane. The air force cshecked in their baggage and gave out boarding ticket on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets were paid on arrival in France. Civilian crews flew the planes.

Few people would talk about their reasons for leaving. Some travelers were businessmen on routine trips. Many were families obviously anxious to escape from the terrorist-plagued city, where the secret army is making one of its strongest fights to sabotage the Algerian cease-fire.

"We want to go anywhere, just to get out," one family said.

There was no sign of overt secret army efforts to prevent people from leaving. But unidentified European men circulated in the crowd and took down names of some people leaving.

Six Moslems and a European woman married to a Moslem were killed in Oran today.

Officials in Algiers said 15 persons were killed and 37 wounded in terrorist attacks in Algeria Wednesday. Of the dead, 13 were Moslems and two Europeans. The wounded included 36 Moslems and one European.

Advertising helped it happen

By stimulating mass demand, advertising helped create a mass market for the refrigerator. As demand grew, more and more companies got into the act. Result: new and better refrigerators were mass produced for more people by America's remarkable and competitive economic system. Is this worthwhile? Then, so is advertising worthwhile.

Resnick Hearing In Phoenix Is Halted by Court

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A court order has halted a preliminary hearing into the bizarre slaying of Sam Resnick, a 61-year-old retired Albany, N.Y., jeweler.

Attorneys for two of the five men accused in the killing requested separate trials for John Henry Lewis Jones, 21, and Jesse Tillis, 19.

When Peace Justice Charles Coppock refused, they appealed to Suprelor Court, which granted an order Wednesday temporarily halting the hearing.

Jones, Tillis, Ernest Spurlock, 29, and brothers Clemmie, 19, and R. E. Jackson, 21, are charged with first-degree murder.

Sheriff's deputies say all but Clemmie have admitted participating in the slaying. The men maintain Resnick hired them to kill him and even gave instructions when their strangulation efforts failed on the first try.

Deputies said Clemmie answered a "work wanted" newspaper advertisement and acted as the go-between. The men took jewelry valued at about $6,000 from Resnick's body, the deputies said. It has been recovered.

SPECTACLE(S)—A first for Gregory Peck—he wears glasses in his role of small town lawyer in the film version of Pulitzer Prize novel, "To Kill a Mockingbird."

Eight Arrested As Troopers Hit Legion Lottery

GREEN ISLAND, N.Y. (AP)—State Police raided an American Legion Post in this Albany County village Wednesday night and arrested eight men on lottery charges.

About $2,000 was confiscated.

Troopers said the lottery was run by "The Legionnaires Club," which was made up of some members of the Legnard-Curtin American Legion Post. The drawing was conducted on post property, the police said.

Four men were charged with contriving a lottery, a felony, and four with selling lottery tickets, a misdemeanor.

Troopers said the club sold chances on cash prizes ranging up to $400. Drawings were held once every two weeks, they said.

Earlier in the day police had arrested three men and the wife of one on gambling charges in Mechanicville, about 15 miles north of here in Saratoga County. They were charged with maintaining gambling establishments, possessing policy slips and bookmaking.

Breaking Up Ice To Start Ships In Great Lakes

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Great Lakes shipping tentatively is scheduled to start out of Buffalo Friday and is getting a helping hand from the U.S. Coast Guard.

The huge icebreaker, the Mackinaw, crunched through the Lake Erie ice Wednesday to join two smaller icebreakers in clearing the harbor entrances.

The ships are attempting to break 6 to 18-inch thick pack ice and start it moving to the Niagara River.

More Promotion Asked of Seaway

CLEVELAND (AP) — The administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., Joseph H. McCann, said today he is disappointed in the amount of "vigorous inquiry into the use of the seaway."

Too many businesses are overlooking the saving potential in exporting their products via the seaway, McCann told delegates to the 17th anual Cleveland World Trade Conference.

He said the Department of Defense found in a recent study that it could save $840,000 by making greater use of the seaway and that there was a potentially larger saving indicated for future years.

McCann cited a University of Wisconsin study that showed Wisconsin items shipped to Europe and South Ameica were transported more cheaply because of the seaway route. He cited sample percentage of savings, based on deliver price, at 8 to 10 per cent on heavy motor vehicles; 10 per cent on varnish; 10 per cent on packing house products; 6 per cent on tobacco.

McCann, who was appointed administrator last January, blamed a lag in promotion by lake ports for the slowness of shippers to avail themselves of potential savings offered by the seaway. He urged "a unified promotional program to explain the advantages of the seaway and Great Lakes ports" through the International Association of Great Lakes Ports.

Highlights in Career Of Eddie Fisher, Was Soloist for Ferraro

(Editor's Note: There's an important date you won't find in the list below. It was January 14, 1949, when Eddie Fisher, then a rank unknown, sang at the formal opening of John Ferraro's Bowlodrome on Cornell Street. "Give this lad a nice buildup," said Milton Blackstone to the master of ceremonies that night. "He's going to be one of our greatest singing stars." It was a prophetic statement.)

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market groped unevenly in moderate trading early this afternoon. Motors made narrow gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 254.70 with industrials up .60, rails off .20 and utilities up .40.

Gains and losses of key stocks were pretty well balanced. Most movements were small, some going to a point or so.

Most of the major stock groups were throughly irregular.

General Motors recouped a fraction of Wednesday's loss. Ford, Chrysler and American Motors made similar gains.

Steels were unchanged to narrowly mixed. Rails were a bit lower. Baltimore & Ohio dropped about a point.

Oils, tobaccos, chemicals and drugs were very uneven. Aerospace issues tended to decline. Douglas Aircraft, mentioned prominently in Washington investigations of missile contracts was off around a point.

Amerada and IBM picked up about 3 points. General Tire rebounded more than a point.

International Harvester, reportedly closing some plants, was down about a point.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed U.S. government bonds advanced in moderate trading.

IBM to Study Ways to Reduce Army Parts Costs

ROCKVILLE, Md.—The Army has awarded IBM a contract for a tough new assignment: Find a substitute for experience.

Systems experts at IBM's Federal Systems Division, Rockville, Md., will study the way the Army decides which and how many repair parts, tools and test devices to buy for new weapons and equipment for which there is little or no usage experience to service as a guide. Then the study group will design a system that will use advanced management techniques to predict what the maintenance experience with the new equipment probably will be. These predictions will serve as buyers' guides for procurement planning.

Every year the Army adds many thousands of repair parts for new items to its supply system at a cost of over $150 million. This means that if the IBM study can find a way to cut down the new item repair parts bill by 1 per cent the Army could save over $1 million a year.

The study is called "Initial Provisioning of Repair Parts." Lt. General R. W. Colglazier Jr., Deputy Chief of Staff of the Army for Logistics has selected a board of Army logistics experts to work with IBM on the study. The IBM Federal Systems Division has assigned supply systems specialists from its Systems Center in Bethesda, Md., along with mathematicians, statisticians, physicists, economists and industrial engineers to work on the project.

The project is expected to take about two years. It will include the analysis of actual histories of new equipment and studies of other equipment in various stages of research and development, including electronics and communications equipment, aircraft, tank and automotive equipment, rockets and missiles, and construction and engineering equipment. The study group will not only recommend a new provisioning system but also a reporting and evaluation procedure for the Army to measure how accurately supply specialists are "provisioning" parts, tools and test devices for new items of equipment.

Red Cross Again Offering Grants To Water Schools

Two full tuition scholarships to the annual American Red Cross National Aquatic and Small Craft schools are being sponsored by the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The schools, conducted each summer, are open to men and women 18 years of age or over who plan to use this training to teach others swimming, boating, life savings, and other water safety techniques. All applicants must be certified by a physician.

The complete scholarship covers board, lodging, textbooks and instructor outlines.

Specialists working with the handicapped may enroll for elective sessions which will be offered in four of the eight schools. It is possible for anyone working with the handicapped to enroll for this water safety training without the Red Cross water safety instructor requirement. A Red Cross senior lifesaving certificate or equivalent ability is required for small craft school candidates.

Dates and locations of the 1962 Red Cross summer aquatic schools are as follows: June 10-20, Limberlost Camp, LaGrange, Ind., and Camp Kiwanee, Hanson, Mass; June 12-22, Camp Tevya, Brookline, N. H., and Camp Lutherlyn, Prospect, Pa.; June 13-23 Gardner Lake Camps, Colchester, Conn., and Camp Indian Trails, Milford, Pa.

Last year partial scholarships were awarded by the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross to Jacqueline Bott and Wilma Burke of Kingston and Russell Henze of Hurley.

Information regarding the annual scholarships to the Red Cross aquatic schools may be obtained at Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, 308 Clinton Avenue. Enrollments are not limited to scholarship applicants.

ALBANY—An examination for applicants seeking admission this fall to State University's 21 undergraduate colleges will be held May 5 at 24 testing centers throughout the state, including the college at New Paltz.

Applications for the examination must be postmarked no later than April 16. Those postmarked after that date will be assigned to the July 23 test, the last in the 1961-62 series.

Students should write to the colleges in which they are interested for necessary forms. The examination is required of applicants to the following colleges:

State University Colleges at Albany, Brockport, Buffalo, Cortland, Fredonia, Geneseo, New Paltz, Oneonta, Oswego, Plattsburgh, and Potsdam.

Discrepancy Noted

"There is an obvious discrepancy between the statement of WGHQ reporter Tom Lacue attributing his report of the March 22 police board meeting 'to a member of the board who declined to be identified', on the categorical denial of each commissioner last night that they had discussed the meeting with Lacue prior to his March 23 broadcast," the mayor said.

"I have complete confidence in the integrity of the members of the board of police commissioners, and would welcome the participation of the common council committee," the mayor concluded.

Switch Full-Priced Shares Into Aggressive Issue

Q) "My wife and I are both 38 years old. We have $1,000 in the bank drawing interest and shares of General Public Service, Columbia Gas, and Mesabi Trust. What is your opinion of these stocks? Should any switches be made? I feel we could take a little more risk than we're presently carrying." J. O.

A) I think you have a pretty good portfolio.

General Public Service, as a closed-end investment company, has the bulk of its assets in utility and industrial shares. Income is paid from both dividends and security profits, and in my opinion, the shares are a worthwhile conservative holding.

Columbia Gas, I feel, should also be held. In recent years, earning power of this natural gas system has made some good gains, and I look for the trend to continue.

Mesabi Trust is an unusual firm in that it derives income from the production royalties indirectly paid by two big steel companies which use Mesabi's iron ore reserves. At present levels, I think the shares are fully priced and recommend a switch into a more aggressive situation.

Since you're willing to accept some risk, I believe Interstate Department Stores (NYSE), a fast growing member of the discount retailing group, would be a good replacement.

Q)—"I want to buy a growth stock. Which do you prefer—Virginia Electric & Power or Ionics?" M. R.

A) This depends entirely upon the amount of risk you can afford to take. Virginia Electric & Power (NYSE) is a rapidly expanding firm and since it is a utility, the downside potentials ought to be fairly limited. Ionics (OTC), on the other hand, is a small science firm prominent in the field of salt water purification Its shares fluctuate over a wide range.

Both stocks have lot of promise. If you can afford to speculate in technology, Ionics could eventually prove highly rewarding. If not, I believe Virginia Electric & Power would be your best bet.

reached. This means that new members of the faculty will next September receive $400 more than they would have received last September; and that current members of the faculty who are remaining in the system will receive their regular increment of $200 plus a raise of $400. Raises for all teachers were made uniform. Principals likewise received a raise of $600.

In conformity with state regulations, faculty members who have earned a Master's Degree or 30 acceptable hours beyond the AB Degree receive an additional $300, and those with a Doctor's Degree or 60 approved hours receive $300 above the Master's Degree.

Members of the stenographic and clerical force who are on a salary schedule basis will receive a raise of not less than $200.

Includes Custodial Force

Members of the custodial force will receive raises in accordance with their regular schedule which in most cases call for a $100 increase. All of these raises become effective either on July 1 if the individual is a 12-months worker, or on September 1 if the individual is on a 10-months basis.

It is anticipated that the increase in state aid to be received next year over the amount currently received will be more than sufficient to finance all of these raises.

Major Battle

try of Massachusetts, the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania, the 32nd Infantry of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored of Texas.

The 32nd and 49th now are on active duty and are the best trained and equipped of all the Guard divisions. The 26th and 28th were picked last fall as the next to be called if needed in the Berlin crisis. They have been built to nearly 100 per cent of strength and have been outfitted with much new equipment.

If the plan goes through, it will reduce the Guard divisions to 23 and Reserve divisions to six.

Block Is Uncertain

There was some question as to whether Congress could block the reorganization, since it could be achieved within authorized manpower limits.

The Kennedy administration has proposed cutting total paid drill strength in the Guard and Reserve by 58,000 to a new total of 642,000.

These cuts would not come out of the eight divisions but out of some 8,800 lesser units.

Army officials hoped to split the cuts on a four-three ratio, with the Guard taking the heaviest reductions.

The aim is to do away with such nondivisional outfits as antiaircraft gun batteries made obsolete by antiaircraft missiles and such excess support units as truck companies.

Opposition Great

Now, we hear a great deal about tax loopholes. How about gambling establishments, race tracks and sporting events where it is a well-known fact that, frequently, no tax whatsoever is collected on taxable income?

Hopes They'll Use Conscience

"During my 12 years in the House, I have never received such a volume of mail unanimously opposed to a single bill. It comes almost entirely from little people who reply upon this income after a life of toil and savings. Have we reached a point where the old-fashioned virtues are to be penalized by bureaucracy, delay, and red-tape? Avid supporters of the Kennedy administration say that they are reluctant to go along with this measure, and I hope that they will heed their consciences in preference to political expediency.

"As someone has very aptly put it, the whole ramshackle structure of Federal taxes is a tangled growth of imposts tacked onto the last clear thought on taxation back in Woodrow Wilson's time.

"No adjustment for tax grievance in any one sector of American life, no denial of established tax privilege to any one sector of American life can correct the Federal tax system without creating new injustices.

"This withholding proposal clearly demonstrates that taxes require thinking through all over again, and the bill should be returned to committee."

Walker Ties

Senate investigators were entitled to the names of those involved.

"Will you name these people?" the senator pressed.

"I cannot identify those who are completely in control of the apparatus," Walker replied, but added that he could identify those who follow the soft-Communist line.

Led to China Takeover

Finally Walker said, "Dean Rusk" and quickly added that he understood Rusk was on the staff of the late Joseph "Vinegar Joe" Stillwell in China.

Walker said the "agrarian reform highlits" led to a takeover of mainland China by the Communists.

The ex-general said Rusk had been a member and supporter of the Institute of Pacific Relations, adding that its activities and those of Owen Lattimore were a matter of record in reports by the Senate Internal Securities subcommittee.

"Are there other names?" Bartlett asked.

"Walt Rostow, who has been in control of operations of the CIA since 1954," Walker replied.

Bartlett asked for other names but Walker said he believed Rusk and Rostow had so much influence, additional names were unneeded.

"I want to unify the greatest force in the world," Walker said. "It is the only circumvention to war."

Walker had named some figures at the Pentagon in his first day of testimony.

He aimed his heaviest fire at Adam Yarmolinsky, special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Of Yarmolinsky—one of those whom Walker contends made a "scapegoat" of him—he said:

"His connections with communism have certainly been close and his activities have aided communism."

Yarmolinsky told a reporter he had nothing to do with the Walker case and that Walker's charges were irresponsible. "It happens that I have a public record as an anti-Communist," he declared. "My whole public record goes in the opposite direction from these charges."

Did Attend Meetings

He said it was true, as Walker charged, that he had attended some Young Communist League meetings.

He was a junior in high school at the time, he said, and went—against his parents advice—because "I was curious."

"I went to a couple of meetings and saw what it was, and I didn't go again," said Yarmolinsky.

Walker is specifically testifying on Army information and indoctrination programs for troops. The committee is investigating allegations that military officers' anti-Communist speeches and efforts have been muzzled. But the testimony often went far afield.

Walker, now seeking the Democratic nomination for the governorship of Texas, first read a 9,000-word prepared statement. Two associates sat by his side, occasionally prompting him and correcting his pronunciation. They identified themselves as Attorney C. J. Watts of Oklahoma City and Medford Evens of Dallas, a consultant.

Before the long day was done, Walker in his statements and under questioning from senators charged:

That the armed forces were "paralyzed by our national policy of 'no win' and retreat from victory."

That he was a victim of this policy—"I was charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing," have been punished for nothing."

That the President was to blame for his removal and admonishment—"the chief executive was both prosecutor and judge..."

Mannix Candidate for Board; Several Others Due to File

A formal announcement today by Thomas Mannix of Woodstock indicates a total of 12 actual or potential candidates for the four vacancies on the Onteora Board of Education, an informal check indicates.

Mannix, a teacher in the Kingston Consolidated Schools system, is the first person to publicly announce his candidacy.

Five other persons, including three incumbent board members, have assured supporters they will run.

The three incumbents are: The Rev. H. Chase Page of Phoenicia, who will seek a one-year term; Harry Allen of Pine Hill will seek reelection to the full five-year term; and Edward Unser of Olive is a candidate for the one-year term.

John W. Ebbs of Woodstock, an engineer at Rotron, has filed for the five-year term to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mrs. Marie Kleine. The latter announced at the March meeting of the OCS Board that she would not be a candidate for reelection.

Other names that have cropped in pre-election speculation are Albert S. Fox of Olive Bridge, who served two different terms on the board; Robert Adsit of Olive, David R. Fox of West Hurley; G. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley; Robert Johanssen, Olive; Lawrence G. Casey, Lake Hill, and Lewis R. Wilson of Woodstock.

Casey said that he had given some thought to running for election, but later decided to withdraw. It is also understood that Johanssen and Wilson are not active candidates.

There are two one-year vacancies and two full-term openings on the Board of Education. The elections are scheduled in May. Deadline for filing nominating petitions is Tuesday, April 17.

Breaks With Tradition

Mannix, who resides at 31 Overlook Drive in Woodstock, stated that he was breaking with tradition in announcing his candidacy early, so that he would have the opportunity to meet more people and be able to discuss his candidacy with all interested parties.

Mannix expressed a willingness to meet with any group of citizens to discuss the election. "I am a newcomer to Woodstock and, as of now, not too many residents of the Onteora Central School District are acquainted with me," he said. "I hope to remedy this situation within the next three weeks."

In his statement, Mannix credited his work with the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee in Kingston with sparking his interest in the current campaign. He served as a member of the steering committee which wrote the by-laws for the Kingston group and is currently serving as a member at large.

Mannix is now teaching a sixth grade class at the George Washington School. He was graduated from the State University College of Education in his home town, Plattsburgh, in 1957. In June, 1961, he received a M.S. degree from New Paltz. He is currently serving as treasurer and publicity chairman for the Woodstock Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is also a member of the Kingston Teachers Federation and the George Washington School P-TA.

He is married to the former Katherine Riccio of Harrison, N. Y., and they are parents of two children, Eileen Mary, 5, and Michael Sean, 4.

Chamber's Directors Elect William West Sr. Chairman

William West Sr. was named chairman of the temporary 10-member Board of Directors of the Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce at the first meeting of the newly elected board.

Other designations were: Gordon Anderson, treasurer, and KiKi Godwin, secretary. Serving as directors are: Joseph Marr, Harry Ostrander, Adolph Heckeroth, Nelson Shultis, Alvin Moscowitz, John Wingert and Elbert Varney.

Also present at the meeting were members of the original seven-member committee which conducted the recent election of directors: Wayne Underhill, Mrs. Joseph Marr, Richard Langham, Harry Cohen, Edward Berberich, who acted as chairman; and the two members who were voted to the present board: KiKi Godwin and William West.

Following the appointments the group discussed the advisability of changing the name of the Woodstock Township CC to Woodstock Area Chamber of Commerce in an effort to attract and make welcome memberships from the West Hurley district. The board felt that the Chamber should be open to all who are interested in its aims and purposes and that no township restriction would be placed on memberships, but the name will remain as Woodstock Township Chamber. Annual dues were fixed at $15.00 by a majority vote.

A copy of the by-laws of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and by-laws suggestions from the national chamber were considered. The Saugerties booklet of by-laws was selected as a sample to work with, since it was felt their makeup most closely suited Woodstock requirements.

Make Additions

Additions were made to include art, culture and historical aspects but the fundamental by-law structure is the same as those applied to all Chamber organizations.

The principal debate occurred on the subject of presidential authority and prerogative. The members debated whether the president should have full authority to appoint committees (as in the Saugerties chamber), or whether he should appoint committee chairmen with the approval of the board. A third alternative proposed was that the president could make appointments only after consultation with the board of directors.

Sentiment was divided in two fields of thought. One group felt that the president must have some power and should be given the authority to appoint committee chairmen. The other group took the position that the president should be answerable to the board of directors on all matters and the directors, in turn, should be responsible to the membership which would decide all major issues by a majority vote. Both groups agreed that the president should not be relegated to a figure head.

The first draft of the by-laws and constitution is in the making. The preliminary draft will be considered in detail by each board member and then by all ten members at a special meeting. After the board approves the by-laws and constitution, they will be submitted to the entire membership for action.

Tree Trust Sets Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Woodstock Tree Trust will be held Wednesday, April 11, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of Rotron's new engineering and research building on Hasbrouck Lane, off Route 375 opposite the White Horse Inn.

Besides the usual review of the past year's activities and the new year's program by the Management Committee of the trust, a representative of the Bartlett Tree Expert Company will give an illustrated talk on "The Selection and Maintenance of Shade for Public Areas," illustrated with color slides.

Thereafter, an interesting color film will be shown, recently completed by the combined efforts of several tree expert companies. Titled "Time Lapse of Growing Tree" it shows in slow motion the growth and development of trees. Besides donors to the Woodstock Tree Trust, their families and friends, everyone interested in this subject is welcome.

Contribution Was $1,000

The Woodstock Tree Trust further announces its recent contribution to Woodstock's town Shade Tree Fund was $1,000, not $3,000, alas, as erroneously reported in the press.

The contribution will assist toward the emergency care of 58 of the large sugar maple trees on Route 212 between the Country Club and Orchard Lane. These trees contribute largely to the atmosphere of the hamlet of Woodstock and are an important assest to the residents of Woodstock and an attraction to all who visit us, says a Tree Trust statement.

"Now that Woodstock has a Shade Tree Fund, as provided for by the New York State Law, our Town Board has made a start in rectifying a long-neglected duly and the Woodstock Tree Trust hopes that this signals the beginning of a modest but continuous program toward maintenance and re-planting of beautifying shade trees along all our roads," the statement concludes.

Award Prizes For Essays on Wildlife Week

Awards in connection with National Wildlife Week essay contest were presented last night to two Onteora Central School seventh graders.

Judith Gardner of Mt. Tremper was awarded the first prize, with Berno Hugo Ketter of DuBois Road, Shokan taking second prize. The first prize was a $25 Savings Bond donated by Folkerts Brothers sporting goods of Phoenicia. The second prize of $5.00 was donated by the South Side Rod and Gun Club of West Hurley. The awards were presented last night prior to the Woodstock Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting at Deanie's Restaurant.

Miss Gardner's winning essay will now enter competition with winning essays from the Kingston Schools (Consolidated) and the Saugerties Central School. Grand prize in this phase of competition is a $50 Savings Bond donated by the Federated Sportsman's Club of Ulster County.

Chet Joy, county chairman of the National Wildlife Week observance, noted the depth of understanding and feeling expressed by the contestants. He also reported that honorable mention certificates will be forwarded to deserving entrants. Joy also said this year's essay activity will be reviewed with an eye toward increasing its scope in the future possibly to state or even regional and national competitions.

Walt Disney served as national chairman for this year's National Wildlife Week (March 18-24). This year's theme stressed water conservation. Several meetings held in connection with the observance pointed to the importance of water and wetland conservation.

Many New Books Are Now Listed At the Library

The upcoming National Library Week, which starts Sunday, reminds one that a visitor to the Woodstock Library during the past week would have found several new books on American history, says Janette Steinlauf.

Also of interest to the reader is George Gamow's Biography of the Earth; Leverett C. Richards' TAC: The Story of the Tactical Air Command; what appears to be a dandy text on geometry and an exhaustive study of Plumbing published by McGraw-Hill.

The last certainly appears to cover about everything but the preposterous problem of night time emergencies. Some day, says Mrs. Steinlaug, some one should write a first rate study of the perversities of modern conveniences with a special section devoted to meditations for sleepy home owners with burnt fingers, wet feet and chilled blains (there is such a noun).

Among Woodstock Library's own books are the first volumes of the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Art, replete with superior color plates and lively, authpritative texts.

Lively Collection

But most readers will look forth on a larger, livelier world after reading any of the following from the last pages of the accession book: The Rich Nations and the Poor Nations, Barbara Ward; Image, Daniel Boorstin; Portrait of Hemingway, Lillian Ross; My Brother, Ernest Hemingway by Leidester Hemingway; Japanese Gardens for Today, David H. Engel; Majesty and Mischief, William White; Dust in the Lion's Paw, Freya Starke; Fausto's Keyhole by Woodstock's Jean Arnaldi.

Also listed are: Catch-22, Joseph Heller; Fox in the Attic, Richard Hughes; The Pride of Miss Jean Brodie, Muriel Spark; End of the Battle, Evelyn Waugh; Decision at Law, David W. Peck; Conscience in Politics, Stuart Brown; Between Oxus and Jumna, Arnold Toynbee; Man and the Moon, Robert Richardson; What Ivan Knows That Johnny Doesn't, Arthur S. Trace, Jr.; May Man Prevail, Eric Fromm; Campus, U.S.A., David Boroff; The Ivy Tree, Mary Stewart; Twilight of Honor, Al Dewlen; Daughter of Silence, Morris West; Prologue to Love, Taylor Caldwell; Blue of Capricorn, Eugene Burdick; False Entry, Hortense Calisher; Camelot, Alan Lerner; Promise at Dawn, Romain Gary; My Life in Court, Louis Nizer.

So, here indeed is reading aplenty for Woodstock patrons. And if this isn't sufficient, one can always tap the Mid-Hudson Library or the State Library in Albany.

One might add that our world and our universe is growing whether we read or not, says Mrs. Steinlauf. But, it is the reader with the lively, discerning eye who measures the growth rate, and who directs the growth. As Freya Stark says in her introduction to Dust in the Lion's Paw, her personal story of the war years: "If the past were ever past, there would be little use in recalling it, but it lives with us in never-ending variations . . . Our future is uncontrollable if we are unable to read our past."

Public Is Invited Home Unit Meeting

The public has been invited to the April 10 meeting of the Woodstock Home Demonstration Unit in the Overlook Methodist Church hall at 1:30 p. m. The special event will be a color film titled "A Dream Come True" which shows beautiful Lake Minnewaska in the Shawangunk Mountains.

Hostesses for the day will be: Theresa Duane, Margaret Schilz, Minnie Shultis, Ida Taylor and Louise Van Valkenburgh.

Overlook Church News and Notes

"It's Time to Take Sides" is the sermon topic for the Rev. James W. Cook for Sunday, April 3, at the Overlook Methodist Church in Woodstock. The text for the sermon is from the Gospel of St. John, chapter 12. Worship hour is 11 a. m.

A nursersy is provided during the worship service. Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. for those above the Kindergarten class; 10:45 for beginners and kindergarten MYF Sunday evening at 6 p. m.; Bible Study, Wednesday at 2 p. m.; Senior choir, Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

There will be a District Rally Sunday afternoon at Grand Gorge Methodist Church, at which time reports will be made concerning the United Evangelistic Mission for our District. The program will begin at 3:30 p. m. and the Rev. Francis Freeman, District Superintendent of the Oneonta District, will be guest speaker.

In conjunction with Overlook's participation in the Evangelistic Mission a coffee hour was held last Sunday after the worship service. Donald Wilson, chairman of the Membership and Evangelism Commission has this to say about the "get together":

"The Membership and Evangelism Commission sponsored a "get-together" of members and guests of the church immediately following the morning service this past Sunday. This get acquainted meeting included coffee and cake and was well attended. It is hoped that this will be the beginning of a "shake your neighbor's hand every Sunday morning" program. With the coming of summer and many new visitors, we would all like people to leave each Sunday with the memory of the friendliest church they've ever attended."

We will look forward to seeing you next Sunday at worship and at the get together afterwards.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of Overlook Methodist Church will have its annual rummage sale in June. This sale will bring in funds which will be used to help send young people of the church to the Conference Camp programs this summer. Members and friends of the church are asked to contribute articles for the sale. Old books, clothing, attic antiques, furniture, and other articles will be welcomed. If you have something to give please notify any of the following: Steven Mercer, president of the MYF; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newman, or the minister.

The last in the present series of Union Lenten Services will be held in Overlook Church this Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. The "union" of the services will be emphasized by the fact that the four ministers of the participating churches will each have a part in the worship. The choirs will also join together for the anthem, "O Sacred Head Now Wounded." You are cordially invited to this Lenten service of scripture and hymns.

Grady to Speak At Cooke Event

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — W. Vincent Grady, Surrogate of Dutchess County, has accepted an invitation to be a speaker at the testimonial dinner to be given Supreme Court Justice Lawrence H. Cooke at the Concord Hotel May 17. Dinner Chairman Walter Smith announced, Judge Grady's acceptance today.

"We have already received reservations from every county in Judge Cooke's Supreme Court district," Smith said.

"There are 1,500 reservations available and we expect to have every one taken by May 7, deadline for ticket sales," he added.

The committee chairman also reported that more than 200 reservations have been made, with every indication that the dinner will be one of the largest ever held in the county.

Judge Cooke's associates in the Third Judicial District have signified they will attend the dinner, providing their court schedules do not interfere. One of the judges has told the Monticello Fire Department Committee, that the testimonial is one of the finest things proposed for Judge Cooke.

Although the dinner is being sponsored by the Fire Department, nearly every organization in Sullivan County is joining in assisting with ticket sales and other arrangements.

In addition to Sullivan County groups there are many organizations including the Bar Associations and many individual attorneys who have volunteered to handle reservations in their areas.

Tickets are available from most fire departments and by contacting Smith at the Monticello Fire Department.

Napanoch Fire Leaves Four Homeless, Possessions Lost

A second serious fire to occur within the last two days in the Napanoch Fire district, early today swept the two-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blancato on Irish Cape Road, Napanoch and left four occupants homeless and without any personal belongings.

Early last Tuesday morning, fire completely destroyed the two-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Warren, Yeagerville Road, Napanoch, damaged a garage attached to the residence and caused the death of two pedigreed basset hounds.

Fire Chief Donald Murphy, Napanoch, said Mr. and Mrs. Blancato, their 2-year-old daughter and Mrs. Blancato's young brother, were asleep in first floor rooms when Blancato was awakened by smoke shortly after 3:30 a. m.

Glow Attracts Him

Murphy said Blancato saw a glow of light in an adjoining room and he leaped from his bed and discovered the fire. The chief said the child was put through a window to safety and others in the house hastily made their way outside.

The chief said when firemen arrived at the scene flames were sweeping the house, formerly owned by Sidney Gorton. Murphy said the house was completely destroyed.

The fire chief estimated the personal property loss at $2,500 or more, and stated none of it was covered with insurance. No estimate of the loss to the building was available. Murphy said Blancato also lost tools valued at $2,000 or more.

"The family lost everything they owned, but the truck," the chief said.

Could Have Been Wiring

According to Murphy, Blancato and his family came to Ulster County from Long Beach, Calif., about a week ago and purchased the house in Napanoch. Blancato intended to develop the farmland and raise beef cattle, Murphy stated.

The chief said it is possible the fire started from defective wiring. Firemen recovered two trophy pistols belonging to Blancato.

Po'keepsie Survey Arranged to Help In Road Building

An origin-and-destination survey will be conducted by the New York State Department of Public Works at Poughkeepsie April 16, 17 and 18 to determine where motorists started their trip and their destination.

Motorists will be stopped and asked questions about their departure point and destination.

James Spratt Jr., department planning engineer, stated the survey is part of a comprehensive traffic study, the results of which will be used to make recommendations for improvements to the highway system in the Poughkeepsie area.

A similar survey was conducted on Route 9W north of Port Ewen about two years ago.

Highways on which motorists will be stopped during the survey include Routes 9, 44, 9G, 376, and other main traffic arteries on the outskirts of the City of Poughkeepsie. The check also will include the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

Assisting in the survey will be the Action Council of Poughkeepsie, the Dutchess County Planning Board, the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association and the Poughkeepsie Area Inc.

May See Rummel Today

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A Bible-quoting New Orleans Roman Catholic segregationist says she will accept excommunication unless priests show her error in scripture passages which she contends call for racial segregation.

Mrs. B. J. Gaillot, leader of the militantly segregationist Save Our Nation, Inc., group, may get her requested interview today with Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel. She said the archbishop threatened her with excommunication.

matter of fact

No one seems to know when and where the custom of women wooing men during leap year originated, but in 1288 in Scotland a law was enacted giving women the right to do so. Not only could the woman propose but also the man had to accept or pay a fine or even be punished. The only escape was proof that he had a wife already.

Bid Helps to Value Hand

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

South's hand was almost worth an opening two bid and when North responded with a single raise, South was interested in a slam and used the short suit try of three clubs in order to elicit further information from his partner.

North did not have much of a raise, but the knowledge that South was short in the club suit improved his hand materially. North held good trumps, a king of diamonds which surely would prove valuable because South's shortest suit was clubs. Besides one of North's doubletons just had to represent distinct ruling possibility. So North jumped right to the spade game.

Now South was ready to bid the slam and there was some slight possibility of getting to seven. There was nothing to lose by using Blackwood and South checked for aces. When North responded five clubs, South simply bid the spade slam and waited for the trumps.

Even Critical of Book He Hasn't Read Yet

'I'm Right, All Who Disagree Wrong,' Sum Up of Ex-Gen. Walker's Testimony

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The right-wing former Army major general, Edwin A. Walker, repeatedly stumbled and mispronounced and his hands trembled as he read from a 31-page prepared statement.

The statement by this extreme anti-Communist — who quit the Army after being admonished for dabbling in politics and what he said about prominent Americans — was more than just a defense and an explanation.

Critical of Presidents

If all he said before the Senate Armed Services subcommittee Wednesday could be boiled down into one sentence this was it: I'm right. By the same token anyone who disagreed with his conduct was wrong if not worse.

He seemed to see malignant and sinister forces at work in high places.

He was critical of the Kennedy, Eisenhower and Truman administrations, and particularly of President Kennedy; of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; of the press; of the State Department; and of others.

He was even critical of a book which, under questioning, he had to admit he hadn't read. He presented the picture of a man who feels enormously discriminated against, if not persecuted.

After investigating him last year—while he was in command of the 24th Division in Germany —the Army slapped him for:

1. Labeling as pinks or Communists former President Truman, other leading Democrats, and segments of the American press and television-radio industries.

Tried to Influence Troops

2. Trying to influence his troops, contrary to Army regulations, in voting for members of Congress by recommending the use of voting materials not obtained through military sources.

At the end of the probe Walker said the Army investigators had given him "full opportunity to present my side of the case." That wasn't what he said Wednesday.

Bitterly complaining because Secretary McNamara had released the report of the investigators, Walker said:

Says Probe Unjust

"The secretary's presentation was so worded as to give the impression that I had had a fair and just trial." He said the way the investigation was conducted had been "highly irregular and unjust."

In 1959, shortly before he died, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles so much admired a book —"What We Must Know About Communism," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet—that he recommended it to President Eisenhower and bought several copies for other friends.

But in his statement Wednesday Walker condemned a number of books—including the Overstreets' —because, he said, they "implicitly encourage accommodation with the enemy—competitive coexistence, which is fundamentally the Communist line."

Sen. Stuart Symington, who said he and his wife had read the book and enjoyed it, asked Walker to say specifically what was wrong with it. Walker admitted he had never read it.

Late in the day Walker singled out Adam Yarmolinsky, a McNamara aide, as a particular enemy of his and said his connections with Communism have been close and that his actions aided Communism. Yarmolinsky denied this, said his record had been anti-Communist.

Here are some examples from Walker's statement of how he saw evil forces working against him:

He said his assignment to Germany was an "entrapment" and that his case was not "merely unusual but unique." He said:

Says JFK Too Easy

"The forces back of it must be extraordinary. These forces cannot be fully identified... He said McNamara tried to create a "false impression" of what he had done. He said the Army treated him "unjustly" and there were "unscrupulous forces" back of his case.

In short, all that happened to him, according to him, happened because he was such an anti-Communist. His complaint against the Kennedy administration is that it is not anti-Communist enough.

Lemon Juice Her Secret

National Library Week Set Apr. 8-14

National Library Week will be observed in Kingston from April 8 to 14 with public programs and exhibits, it was announced by Kingston City Library.

Joining public libraries across the country with the purpose of focusing public attention upon a unique American institution, the Library has also chosen this week to unveil an exhibit of historical documents celebrating Kingston's history.

City Incorporated

Ninety years ago, on March 29, 1872, the City of Kingston was officially incorporated. In observance of this historic occasion, the library will focus attention on the city's history with an exhibit of old documents.

Other exhibits at the library include a display of art work of 7 and 8 year olds from the arts and crafts class at the Jewish Community Center, and a display of foreign children's books. Both exhibits are featured in the children's room.

The foreign children's books, representing a new acquisition on the part of the library, illustrate book materials available for children in such countries as France, Spain, Italy, Russia, Israel and Greece.

Also included in the foreign children's books collection are items from Hungary and Poland printed in their native tongues. All books are illustrated.

Plan Program

The library's children's room will also participate in National Library Week with special programs on Thursday and Friday.

On April 12 at 2 p. m. the regular picture book hour for ages 3-5 will feature a re-telling of favorite stories. Children are asked to submit their suggestions for stories they wish to hear again.

The story hour for ages 6-12, April 13 at 3:30 p. m. will be a program of stories told by the children's room storyteller.

National Library Week was instituted in 1958 by the American Library Association in cooperation with the National Book Council and other service organizations.

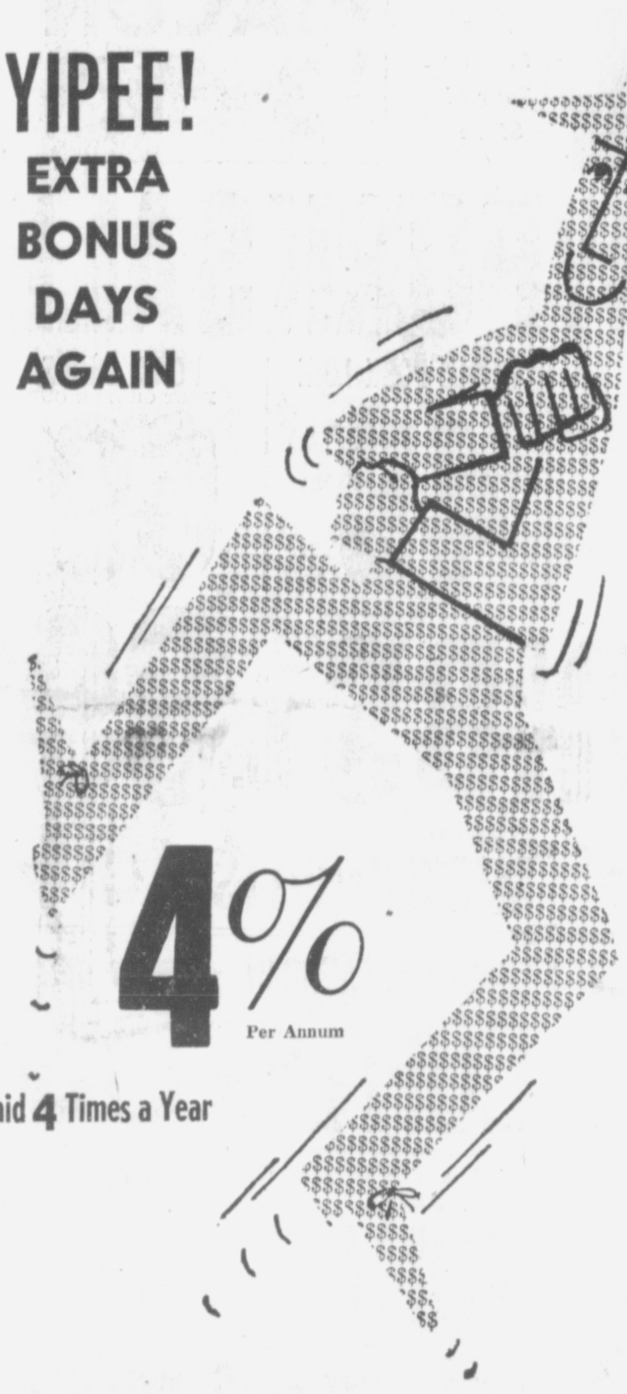

This year, more than 9,000 public, private, and special libraries will again join forces with a total of 50 national organizations in promoting reading and library service.

How a Shell research team got 168.47 miles per gallon

A Shell research team drove this car to a Mileage Marathon record. They used the same Shell fuel that could be bought at Shell stations.

168 miles per gallon must be a world record. Here's how the record was made—and how a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell can help you get better mileage.

Some years ago, a group of Shell scientists had a friendly argument. The gist of it: who could get the most miles from a gallon of gasoline. They decided to find out. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born.

All contestants had to use the same gasoline anybody could buy at a Shell station. Beyond that, the Marathon had few rules. And ingenuity ran wild.

How the record was set

Here are some of the things that Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, the winning team, did to set their record.

None are recommended for informal marathons. But they do offer a few clues on how to get more miles per gallon.

- Berry and Schuette removed their engine cooling fan to save power and muffled their radiator to retain heat.
- They used tires worn smooth and pumped up to 50 pounds pressure to cut rolling friction to a minimum.
- On the road, they accelerated to 20 miles per hour, cut the ignition and rolled until speed dropped to 5 miles per hour. Then they repeated the cycle.

NOTE: they used a standard carburetor from an old one-cylinder engine.

Since "on-and-off" driving is illegal on public roads—and since most Marathon modifications are dangerous for normal use—you may wonder if Shell's Mileage Marathon had any point.

Indeed it did. In the months of preparations, every contestant learned a bit more about the care and feeding of automobiles. Knowledge of this sort gets passed along to you in the form of better Shell products for your car.

EXAMPLE: As a result of Shell's research studies, including many mileage tests, one of the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell is a mileage-booster called Platformate. This ingredient alone can release up to 8 percent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Result: extra mileage.

To help boost mileage even more, follow these driving tips from Berry and Schuette.

How you can save gasoline

1. Don't race your engine when standing still. Unnecessary engine speed is pure waste and takes you nowhere.

2. Avoid jackrabbit starts. Fast getaways waste gasoline and power.

3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 25 percent more gasoline at 65 mph than at 45 mph.

4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses extra fuel—without taking full advantage of the power it could generate.

5. Pace yourself in traffic. Don't be the fastest or the slowest. You'll just be trapped into wasteful spurts and slowdowns.

6. Keep tires up to their proper pressure. Soft tires can soak up power.

7. Ask your Shell dealer about these checks: Spark timing should be set correctly. Fuel filters and air cleaner should be cleaned regularly. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your cooling system thermostat must work right.

Motorists who follow these rules, and use Super Shell, can expect good mileage. Chances are, you can improve the mileage you are now getting. Now that you know how, why not give it a try?

Fire Training Is Delayed by Vols Of Bloomington

Bloomington Fire Company's new fire training course, originally set to start this week, has been postponed until Thursday night, May 3, Chief Oscar Hahn announced today.

Each session will start at 7:30 p. m. in the firehouse and would continue each week until completion of the course.

The training program, to be conducted by Chief Hahn and other line officers of the company, will be interesting and diversified and will include all phases of firemanic activity with both classroom and in-the-field practical training.

The course is not only intended for the younger members, Chief Hahn said in pointing out that both young and old volunteers should make a concerted effort to attend.

President Makes Visit

Vice President Warren Prandoni presided over Tuesday's meeting which was well attended by local volunteers. During a brief visit, President Fred Sauer, who has been recuperating recently from major surgery, addressed the membership and assured them that he would return to an active status as soon as his health allowed.

In a further report, Chief Hahn said that the company had responded to four fire calls during the month. On March 14, firemen were summoned to Church Hill in Eddyville where they discovered an unoccupied, three story frame dwelling completely enveloped in flames. Although the dwelling was completely destroyed, swift work by the volunteers saved nearby structures from any damage. Brush fires on the 28 and 29, both on Greenkill Road in Bloomington, summoned the company once again and both were brought under control in short order with only very minor property damage resulting. A car fire at the Bloomington Inn once more brought firemen out on the 29th. Considerable damage to the auto's interior occurred before the fire could be brought under control.

Drill Set Sunday

Finally, Hahn reported that the regular monthly drill of the Volunteer Firemen's Association, Township of Rosendale would be conducted Sunday starting at 1:30 p. m. The Rosendale Fire Dept. is planning and will conduct this drill somewhere in its district. According to procedure, other member companies of the association will be summoned through mutual aid to participate in the drill with all phases of the operation being handled as if an actual fire were in progress. The chief urged all Bloomington volunteers to attend the drill, declaring that these exercises are invaluable aids to firemanic training. Member companies of the association include Bloomington, Binnewater, Cottekill, High Falls, Rosendale and Tillson.

Charles Peterson reported briefly on the meetings of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association and the Township Association, both of which were held at High Falls during March.

John Markle, chairman, announced that the third annual clam chowder sale of the organization would be held Good Friday, April 20. The sale will begin at 12 noon and continue until the supply is exhausted. All patrons are urged to bring containers. Markle said that complete details would be available shortly concerning committee and location where the chowder will be offered.

Through the efforts of Peter Costa, two guest speakers from the Ulster County Skindivers Club were in attendance at the meeting. Gerry Clem and Thomas Maines spoke at length concerning the training, methods and accomplishments of the local club. They also graphically illustrated and demonstrated the equipment used in scubba and skin diving, having brought a large quanity of their equipment with them. After their remarks, they received and capably answered questions posed by the membership and ended by expressing their appreciation for the aid rendered by area organizations including Bloomington at the Whiteport cave tragedy in February.

The meeting was concluded with the members in agreement that Bloomington would participate in the Ulster County Firemen's Convention parade to be held Saturday, July 28 at 5 p. m. The meeting was adjourned with a moment of silent prayer with the next regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday, May 1.

Key Club, Prisma To Push Library MembershipDrive

A door to door membership drive will be one of the highlights of National Library Week being celebrated April 8-15.

The Kingston Key Club, aided by members of the Prisma Society, has organized its fourth annual library membership drive on a two-night mass coverage basis.

Although the Kingston City Library Association derives much of the funds needed to run the library from the city from tax monies in return for providing free library service to all Kingston residents, the library must raise the balance by other means.

This membership drive is an opportunity for interested citizens to share in the support of the library. Anyone not contacted during the Key Club Drive may join the library association by phoning the library.

Details on joining the association may be had at the library. At present, dues remain at one dollar per year, a sum which has not changed in the 63 years of the library's existence.

Previous years' Key Club drives have made it possible for the library to open Saturday afternoons throughout the year and the special purchase of reference books and books for the Young Adult section in the library.

Ulster's Welfare Allotment Is $98,000

ALBANY—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today anonunced the distribution of $26,102,000—$98,000 for Ulster County—for the month of April to the 65 Public Welfare Districts in the state.

These monies represent the federal and state share (80 per cent) of the anticipated welfare expenditures by the localities. The federal share of these advances amounts to $14,166,000.

Campaign Attacks Cigarette Smoking

LONDON (AP) —The British government today launched a hard-hitting poster campaign against cigarette smoking.

More than 400,000 posters were dispatched to all parts of the nation.

The drive started as a result of last month's report by the Royal College of Physicians that there is a direct connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—As welcome to many businessmen and manufacturers as the first crocus is a spring rise in installment credit. And a sizable gain is reported today. It could be a harbinger of better days ahead in the retail stores and dealers showrooms.

If the rise in debt continues it means that the average American again is acting in traditional average American style—buying on the cuff.

Gain in February

In February outstanding consumer installment credit swelled by $236 million to $42.6 billion. This debt was $970 million higher than a year ago, according to Federal Reserve Board figures.

This helps offset other figures on spending and saving interpreted by some as meaning consumers are holding tight to their purse strings and preventing the economy from growing as fast as officially hoped. And the late winter gain in time-payment debt encourages those who believe that spring will see a neat upsurge in consumer spending.

The big gain in February was in auto installment credit, up $127 million to a total outstanding of $16.9 billion.

This form of consumer spending, the optimists hold, will spill over into allied fields that have their big selling season ahead. This includes a long list of recreational items ranging from boats, trailers, golf carts and vacation cottages to backyard swimming pools.

The building industry also takes heart from a rise of $2 million in February in outstanding installment loans for repair and modernization. Gains in this field have been counted upon to help offset some slackness in new home buying. Repair loans dropped in January and December, so the rise in February is doubly encouraging.

While consumers were increasing their confident assuming of monthly payments, business itself was reporting record levels in its own sales figures.

The Commerce Department reports that February saw total volume of sales in manufacturing, wholesale and retail lines rise one per cent over January to a record seasonally adjusted $64.7 billion.

Retail sales, which had slipped in January, are now revised to $19.1 billion in February, up one per cent from the previous month. The record set in November was just above $19.1 billion.

On such statistics businessmen are building confidence in healthy spring activity—not as glamorous perhaps as some had hoped, but a sound and prosperous period.

Adopted Girl Is Latest Pawn in Liz-Eddie Break

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—A 15-month-old German girl —adopted by Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor only a few months ago—was caught in the ruins of their marriage today.

The child, Rome reports said, was taken from a Munich orphanage in January and given to Miss Taylor and Fisher by the German Embassy in Rome.

German adoption officials refuse to confirm that the girl—said to be known as Maria—had been turned over to the stars. And they would not say what would happen to Maria now.

Adoption lawyers, however, said it probably would be up to the divorce court to decide whether Fisher or Miss Taylor would keep Maria, or whether she would be returned to German authorities.

The blonde girl, Rome reports said, has a congenital dislocation of the right hip—a condition that can be corrected only by long and expensive care. The ailment was reported to have persuaded Miss Taylor and Fisher to adopt her. She arrived in Rome with a cast on her leg.

Children Suffocate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four children suffocated Wednesday night in a fire that filled a third-floor apartment with smoke but burned only a bed.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Halleron, had left the apartment briefly when the fire broke out in the unoccupied double bed.

Killed were Barbara Jean, 8 months; Nancy Kay, 3; Gary Lynn, 2, and Jame Thomas, 4.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Soviets Let Up On Flights in Berlin Corridor

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviets have flown no harassment flights in the air corridors to West Berlin for a week, raising cautious speculation that Moscow for the time being has called off its campaign of irritation on the West's access routes to the city.

The Russians last scheduled flights through the corridors on March 30. They then advised the Berlin Air Safety Center they would send eight transports on night flights at times when Western commercial aircraft were using the corridors.

These flights were canceled and none have been scheduled since.

Patrolling Soviet MIG fighters have been spotted by crews and passengers of Western airliners, but that is not unusual.

Western officials could not say the Soviets have stopped their harassment permanently. Irritant tactics on the access routes—air, road and rail—are turned on and off without warning. But in Western circles there was speculation that the Russians might be holding off to see how the next round of U.S.-Soviet talks on the future of West Berlin and Germany go.

Jakarta Admits Strafing

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian government today admitted strafing an Okinawa tuna boat but claimed it violated Indonesian territorial waters and failed to give proper identification.

A report received in Okinawa said one of the four crewmen wounded in the strafing Tuesday had died.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Board had reported the strafing of another ship off Morotai Tuesday night and said the ship perhaps was American. But today the agency said the report was a mistake resulting from misinterpretation of a distress signal from the Okinawa boat.

Pictures from Eighmey's large collection will be enlarged and projected on a screen for viewing.

President Hints Lower Rates for Air, Rail, Buses

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed a $500 million handout to traffic-strangled cities today and dangled hopes of eventual bargain rates before the nation's air, rail and bus travelers.

Kennedy bundled up his ideas in a 10,000-word transportation message and sent it off to Congress. He ignored former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recommendation for creation of a government department of transportation.

$500 Million Just Start

The $500 million would be only a first installment, spread over three years, to be given to public agencies. They would put up some partially matching funds and use the combined federal-local money for "the revitalization and needed expansion of public mass transportation."

For the traveling public and for bulk freight—grain, coal ore—and farm and fishery products, Kennedy recommended that Congress end minimum rates prescribed under federal regulation. Just what passengers on what lines might get lower rates in time was not spelled out. But federal officials said they hoped for some "bargain rates to attract people away from cars" as well as for congressional action to prevent price wars.

The rate and mass transit recommendations, and a string of others, were parts of a vast, long-range attack on complicated, controversial problems Kennedy said "are burdening our national transportation system, jeopardizing the progress and security on which we depend."

Last JFK Message

In general, Kennedy spoke for continued reliance on private transport and for what he termed fundamental, far-reaching reforms in federal policies—reforms designed to downgrade regulating and subsidizing and make carriers "fit, lean and progressive by vigorous competition and innovation."

Canceled last year, delayed this year, the transportation message was the last of a series Kennedy planned to offer to the present Congress in amplification of his program for the country.

Facets of it may stir up storms of discord in Congress and outside. But Kennedy nevertheless urged Congress to get started as soon as possible.

The recommendation for exemption from minimum rate regulation for carriers of passengers, bulk commodities and farm and fishery products, Kennedy said, would get at the most critical and controversial problems of all in the area of unneeded regulatory curbs. For airline passenger traffic, Kennedy said it might be a good idea to start on a gradual, trial basis.

As things stand now, only water carriers have the exemption with respect to bulk freight and only motor carriers and freight forwarders with respect to agricultural and fishery products.

In Insurance Field 40 Years

Pangburn Observing 20th Year With Olive Agency

Howard S. Pangburn of 10 Clifton Terrace, who began his insurance career in Albany 40 years ago, is observing his 20th anniversary as manager and secretary-treasurer of the Olive Co-operative Fire Insurance Association, the only insurance company having its home office in Ulster County.

Mr. Pangburn, who is a past president of the Kingston Water Board and presently a water commissioner, has been active in civic matters since he took up his residence in Kingston in 1942. A veteran of World War 1, he is active in county and state veteran affairs and is widely known in insurance circles.

Formed in Olive Town

During World War 1 he served in the U. S. Army as a first lieutenant with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe. On his return to civilian life he engaged in the insurance business in the Albany area and in 1942 came to Kingston to assume the office of manager and secretary-treasurer of the Olive Co-operative Fire Insurance Association, a company which was formed in 1896 in the Town of Olive. Its founders were a small group of farmers and business men, who followed a move which was common at that time in rural areas, that of forming co-operative insurance companies.

When Pangburn joined the Association in 1942, business was just in Ulster, Sullivan and Orange counties, but under his management the company now writes insurance throughout the state through over 150 agents.

Ross K. Osterhoudt of Stone Ridge is president of the Association and its officers and directors are all local men.

Belongs to Many Groups

Mr. Pangburn holds office and membership in numerous insurance organizations. He is secretary-treasurer of the Underwriters Rating Board of Albany; the New York State Mutual Agents Association; National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, is a member of the committee for Management and Sales of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies and a member of the Membership Committee of that group.

He was recently named national aid-de-camp by National Commander John Bashara of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. As of July 1, 1961, he was elected senior vice-commander of District 8, of New York State, comprising Ulster, Orange and Sullivan Counties and he has been quartermaster and judge advocate of Ulster Barracks for the past two years.

Is Past VFW Commander

Pangburn served four years as quartermaster and two years as commander of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars and has been active in all veterans organizations since 1921. It was during his term as commander that the present V.F.W. Home was acquired.

In addition to his insurance interests while a resident of Albany, Mr. Pangburn, had a 40-piece band, all veterans of World War I, which he directed for years prior to coming to Kingston. He is married and has two daughters and a son, Kenneth P. Pangburn, who is associated with Olive Co-operative as a special agent.

Mr. Pangburn is a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner.

MONUMENT TO WINTER—Airport employes at Traverse City, Mich., kept adding more pipe to an always-trickling water outlet all winter long. By spring, their project had turned into a towering mass of rock-hard ice 50 feet high.

Four Surrender In Thefts at Military Academy

Accused of stealing doors and generators from the property of the Cardinal Farley Military Academy, Rhinecliff, where they were employed, four Dutchess County men voluntarily surrendered Wednesday and were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Borchers.

The defendants were identified as Archie Van Etten, 47, Rhinebeck; Eugene Mergendahl, 29, Rhinecliff; his brother Robert Mergendahl, Red Hook, and Jacob Briggs, 23, of Rhinecliff.

County Judge John R. Schwartz adjourned arraignment until Friday at 10 a. m.

An indictment charged Van Etten with grand larceny first degree, incolving the alleged larceny of a 2,000 watt generator, a 1,500 watt portable gasoline engine generator, a three-phase generator with a four cycle gasoline engine and two doors. The alleged thefts occurred between January and December, 1961.

Van Etten was jointly indicted with Robert Mergendahl on charges of conspiracy and first degree grand larceny, accused of the theft of the 2,000 watt generator valued at more than $500 last July 15.

Another indictment accused Van Etten and Briggs of two counts of conspiracy, first degree grand larceny and grand larceny second degree in the alleged theft of the three-phase generator and two doors.

Van Etten in a fourth indictment was accused with Eugene Mergendahl of conspiracy and second degree grand larceny in the alleged theft of the 1,500 watt generator valued between $100 and $500.

Attorney Harry H. Hill Jr. represents Briggs and Van Etten and Joseph T. Russell, Poughkeepsie attorney, represents the Mergendahl brothers.

Stang to Address Lloyd Town GOP

Former Kingston Mayor Fred Stang, will be the guest of Lloyd Republican Club at its regular meeting, Friday, 8 p. m. to be held at the Masonic Lodge Hall, Highland.

Audrey Gregorio, Third District vice president, has announced that Mr. Stang will speak to the club on the organization and structure of the Republican Central Committee and the many varied problems and jobs that face a Party Committeeman.

Stang, a successful attorney, is well known in Lloyd for his active work with the former Assemblyman, the late Jack Wadlin. His active background in the field of politics having been Ulster County Attorney, Clerk of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, Assistant District Attorney, and Mayor of Kingston, makes him a well-qualified, informative, and interesting speaker.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting with Mrs. Theodore Schunk serving as chairman of that committee.

Case Put Over

A 35-year-old Poughkeepsie man pleaded innocent Wednesday before City Judge Milton Haven to a charge of reckless driving. Graydon C. Reed, of 127 South Water Street, that city, received an adjournment until Friday at 9 a. m. He was ticketed Tuesday after his car was involved in collision with a vehicle driven by Leo Sparacio, Clintondale.

The ring was recovered from another youth, who said he found the diamond.

Mrs. Robinson, who was baby sitting away from her home, returned Saturday night and found her dresser drawers ransacked and the diamond ring missing.

Town of Hurley Chairman Named For Hospital Fund

The appointment of Charles L. Arnold of Hurley Ridge, West Hurley, as Town of Hurley chairman in the $900,000 Kingston Hospital Building Fund campaign has been announced by General Sherman V. Hasbrouck, chairman of Phase 4 of the drive.

Mr. Arnold is deputy director of Civil Defense for Ulster County and is vice president of F. B. Matthews & Co. An overseas veteran of World War 1, he served with the New York State Guard during World War 2, retiring in 1947 with the rank of major.

Phase 4 of the campaign, now underway, is the final phase and includes solicitations in all area towns. Proceeds of the campaign will be used to erect a new five-level addition to the present hospital to provide for 60 additional adult medical and surgical beds, a pediatric section, larger and modern School of Nursing classrooms and new administrative offices.

Public Hearing Slated on Phone Co. Plan to Build

A public hearing will be conducted tonight by the Town of Poughkeepsie Zoning Board on an application of the New York Telephone Co. for a permit to build a central office on company-owned property off New Hackensack Road.

Paul D. Towner Jr., district manager of the company, said Wednesday the building would represent a substantial contribution to the Town of Poughkeepsie and Dutchess County tax rolls.

Towner said the building's design would be in keeping with the characteristics of the neighborhood and landscaped with shrubbery in place of a fence. The company official noted that the company has moved its proposed site for the building about 350 feet to the west of the site specified in its original application for a permit.

According to the district manager the building would not require a change in the residential zoning of the property.

Towner said the building is needed to meet the demands of a growing residential area, and will be engineered to serve industry and business customers in the area and residential areas with an improved communication service.

No Fallout Danger

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australians were told today that the impending U.S. nuclear tests in the Pacific are "critically important" and they have nothing to fear from radioactive fallout.

Foreign Minister Sir Garfield Barwick reported to Parliament that a radiation advisory committee had satisfied the government that the tests at Christmas Island would not constitute a danger to Australia, New Zealand or other areas in the South Pacific.

Stolen Auto Found

A 1957 car owned by the New York City Board of Water Supply was stolen Wednesday night from in front of the bowling alleys at Ellenville, and later found abandoned on River Road, Ellenville. State Police said Gardner Donahue, of Napanoch, parked the vehicle between 8 and 9 p. m. and later discovered it missing. He notified troopers, who said Donahue found the vehicle abandoned.

matter of Fact

A state delegation leaves the convention floor—its members have gone to caucus. Ever wonder where the term originated? It was first used in Boston, Mass. in the early part of the 18th century as the name of a political club, the Caucus or Caucas Club. At the club public matters were discussed and arrangements made for local elections and the choosing of candidates.

Malden-W. Camp Vols Plan Hose Test Sunday

A hose test for active volunteer firemen of Malden-West Camp Fire Company has been scheduled by Chief Peter Strbich for Sunday 10 a. m. Firemen will assemble at their respective stations and proceed to the testing area.

Chief Strbich said instructions will be given on the use of Scott Air Paks and the operation of pumps. Active firemen are obligated to attend the test.

U.S. Marks Wide Area in Pacific For Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has marked off a wide area in the Pacific for the expected nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

Establishment of the area will become effective April 15 "in preparation for such actual tests as may be ordered later in the month," the commission said Wednesday.

Christmas Island is close to the center of the area, 600 miles wide and 800 miles long. It also embraces Fanning Island, Washington Island, Palmyra Atoll and Kingman Reef.

President Kennedy has said that later this month he will order a resumption of U.S. air tests unless agreement with the Soviet Union is reached before then banning nuclear weapons testing.

President Urges Federal Tax on Pleasure Boats

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proposed a federal tax on pleasure boats as one means of financing the purchase of additional land and water areas for public recreation.

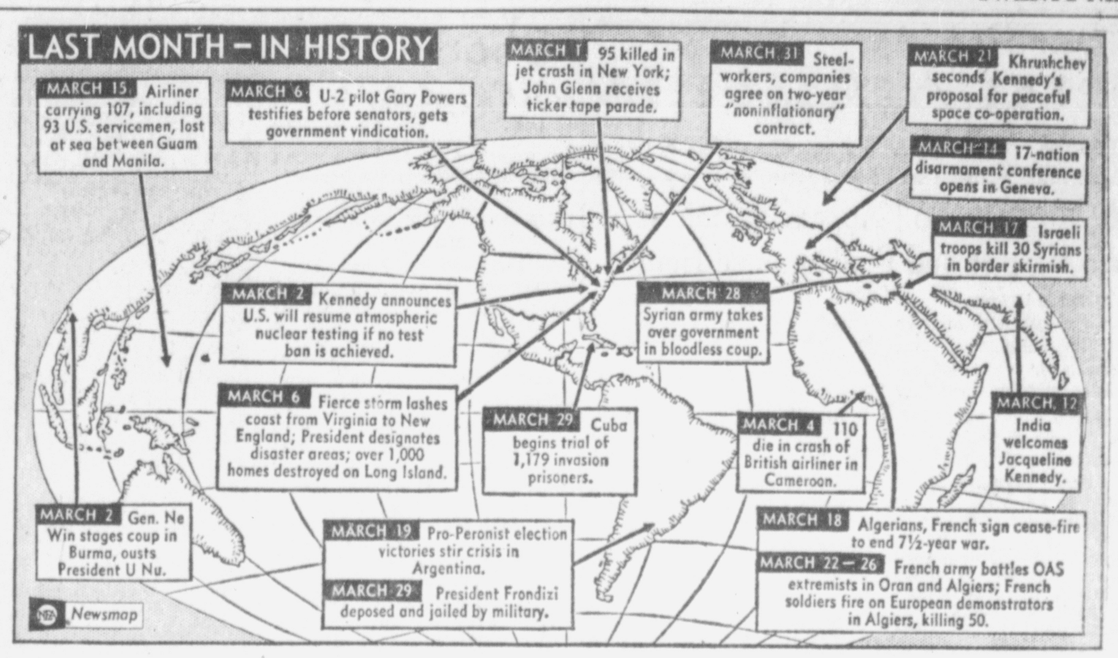

Revenue measures recommended Wednesday by Kennedy in a bill he sent to Congress would bring in more than $1 billion if approved.

The Interior Department estimated that the boat tax alone would bring in about $45 million a year.

In an accompanying message Kennedy noted that Americans consider the outdoors free. "In fact, however," he wrote, "outdoor recreation programs have been supported through a combination of general revenues and special levies such as national park admissions, fishing and hunting stamps and licenses, and federal excise taxes on fishing tackle and sporting arms and ammunition."

In the bill Kennedy asked Congress to create a land conservation fund to "expand existing recreational resources to meet our present and future needs."

The President, who likes to go boating for relaxation, proposed a $5 a year tax on boats 14 to 16 feet in length, with an additional levy of $2 for each additional foot.

Kennedy Accepts Bid to Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brazilian President Joao Goulart has promised his government will make fair compensation for expropriated utility properties.

And, President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to visit Brazil sometime this year.

Those were the two major developments in two days of talks between the heads of state.

Goulart goes on to New York today.

The Brazilian president made his pledge of fair compensation in a joint communique issued Wednesday.

There have been protests in this country over seizure recently in Brazil of a subsidiary of the American-owned International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. and the attempted expropriation of a Canadian telephone firm's subsidiary.

Although the communique did not go into these instances it declared Goulart intends to maintain conditions of security which will permit private capital to perform its vital role in Brazilian economic development.

No date was set for Kennedy's visit to Brazil, but White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced that Mrs. Kennedy planned to accompany the President.

Brazilian sources said August has been tentatively fixed as the date.

Rocky Challenges Nation to Match N.Y. Job Growth

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has challenged the nation to match New York State's annual economic growth rate of 4 per cent. The national rate has been 2 per cent.

Rockefeller issued the challenge in an address to the American Association of Industrial Editors Wednesday.

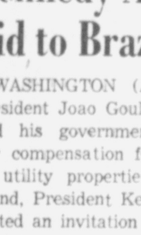

He said the state had 450,000 more jobs last January than in January 1959, but added: "We're just getting started. . .we've got to have full employment."

Claude Monteux Will Appear as Soloist Famous Harpist and Philharmonic Here

When Claude Monteux appeared as a soloist with his own orchestra in Columbus, Ohio, some years ago, the event received notice in New York City music columns. Once again, Mr. Monteux will be a soloist with his own orchestra, this time the Hudson Valley Philharmonic, at a concert to be held at the Community Theatre, Monday at 8:30 p. m.

Mr. Monteux will join Marcel Grandjany, world's foremost harpist, to play the Mozart Concerto for Flute and Harp.

The first time Claude Monteux met Marcel Grandjany, both were soloists on the same program. This took place a year ago at Columbia University. At that time, Mr. Monteux asked the great harpist to be a soloist with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic, so the April concert is an event long anticipated and planned for.

Claude Monteux is known for his flute playing as well as for the tremendous changes he has wrought in the quality and status of the Philharmonic since becoming its conductor. He recently gave a flute recital in Carnegie Recital Hall which was highly praised by New York music critics. On March 11, Mr. Monteux and his wife, Marianne Monteux, appeared as soloists with the Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra in a concert held at Orange County Community College, Middletown. Reviewing this concert, a music critic said, "Claude Monteux's playing is especially exquisite."

Both Sterling Hunkins, Philharmonic assistant conductor who will conduct part of the April 9 concert, and Mr. Monteux have appeared in Philharmonic Chamber Music Concerts, in the Summer Festival of House Music held at Vassar, in Storm King Chamber Music Concerts and with the Renaissance Players.

New York music critics have referred to Mr. Monteux as an "exemplary virtuoso" whose flute playing reveals " a broad palette of tonal color, humor and emotion"; he is "a well-known, greatly admired performer."

The program for the April 9 concert will also inclue Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5, the Beethoven Egmont Overture and Sacred and Profane Dances by Debussy. Marcel Grandjany will be the soloist for the Debussy work.

Tickets will be available at the box office the night of this concert.

Junior Marrieds Club

On Thursday, April 5 at 8 p. m., the Junior Married's will meet at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

His presentation entitled "Westward Ho!" will feature color slides of a four week 10,000 mile trip through the Mid-West, Rockies and Far-Western states plus Canada. Some of the interesting spots to be seen will be Yellowstone National Park; Glacier National Park; Grand Canyon and Salt Lake City.

Members are reminded to bring any used toys, books or games for the Cerebral Palsy Center Waiting room to this meeting.

BRINGING GIFT FOR NEW HOUSE

Q: My fiance and I have been invited to a young married couple's new apartment. This will be our first since their marriage. My fiance thinks we should take a small present for their new house. He says it is customary to do this when going to a new house or apartment for the first time. I don't think it is at all necessary. Will you please settle this for us?

A: Taking a gift for the new house is not at all obligatory, but it is a friendly gesture and one which many follow.

Announcing a Divorce

Q: I have just divorced my husband after ten years of marriage. This news is not generally known. Rather than have to go through the ordeal of telling people personally, I thought it would be simplest and easier on me to send printed announcements to friends and relatives notifying them of my divorce. Would the following announcement be in order?

Mary Brown Smith
annuonces that on March 1st
she was granted a divorce from Richard W. Smith
by Judge Jones

A: I can hardly imagine anything more shocking! Please don't do it.

Thanking College Host

Q: Last weekend I was invited to a fraternity house party weekend at college by a young man I know. I stayed at one of the guest houses and had a wonderful time. I would like to know if I should write a bread-and-butter note to the young man who was my host? I know it is customary to write such a note to one's hostess when spending the weeknd at her house, but I don't know whether the rule applies in this situation.

A: You most certainly should write a note thanking him, and saying how much you enjoyed the weekend.

One-Person Job

Dear Kathy: I like to invite a friend to my house so we can do homework together. Most of the time my father has different ideas. He doesn't appreciate me doing homework with company. It helps to have someone there in case you get struck, and it makes the time pass faster when you have two or three hours of work. He said he would read your answer and might relax the rules a little if you agreed with me. — Jan.

Dear Jan: A guest means some sociability. Is there enough time for this and assignments, too? Are your starting on Friday or Saturday for a Monday project, or is there a deadline in the morning? This would make a difference.

What is being studied? If it's vocabulary or general review for a test, working together could be useful. If it's reading, or understanding and learning new material — no. You'd make more progress alone.

How high are your marks? You probably plan your work well if you are in the top third of your class, and should have some freedom in deciding how it should be done. If you are in the bottom two-thirds, making the time pass pleasantly isn't the most important thing to consider.

Solving a problem can teach a great deal more than having a ready-made answer at your elbow. When stuck, there is a temptation to copy. Couldn't a telephone call take care of any crisis?

Sometimes a friend can help. Most of the time it's best to study alone. You learn to think independently, form better study habits. The work will seem easier later, if you plan to go to college where more projects are individualized and cannot be shared.

I hate to disappoint you, but your present approach is best: solo study and occasional study sessions with a friend.

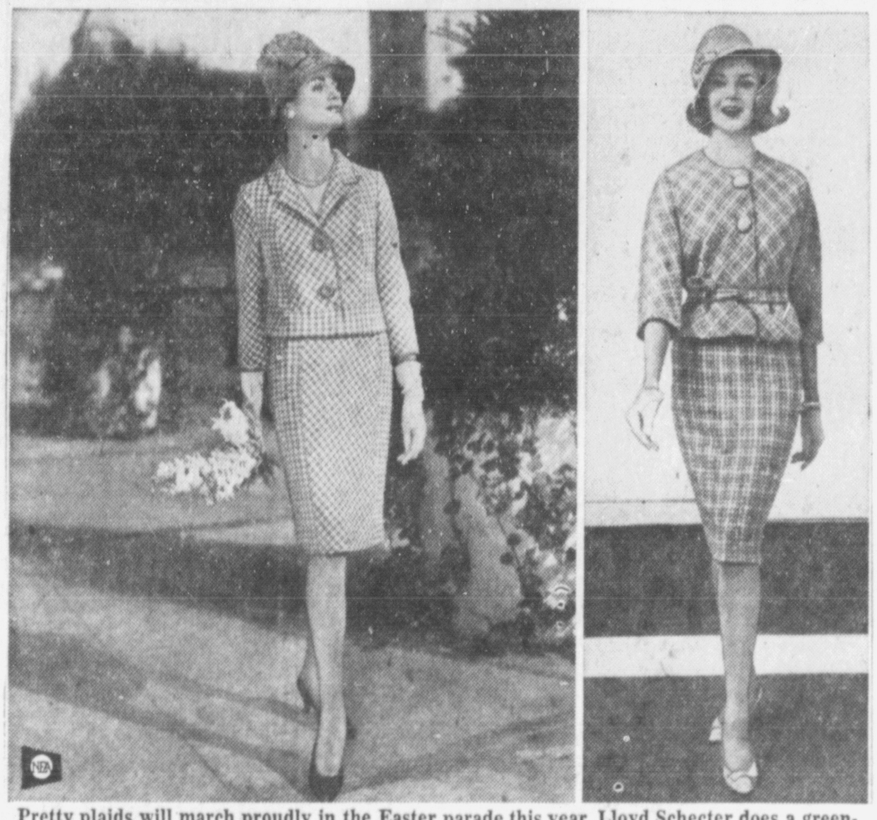

Teen-agers: Please send your personal problems to Kathy Peterson in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

No One Reported Hurt In 2-Car By-Pass Crash

No one was reported injured in a two-car highway mishap Wednesday afternoon on Route 9W near the by-pass intersection and Boice Lane, according to Kingston state police.

Troopers Donald Cole and C. W. Robke identified the operators as Robert Fisk, 37, of Vincent Street, Kingston, and Thomas Nicholas, 19, stationed at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

Troopers said Fisk was proceeding south on Route 9W and Nicholas traveling north attempted to make a left turn into Boice Lane when in collision with the Fisk vehicle.

No Doubt Body In Blaze Ruins Is Bedford Man

OLD FORGE, N.Y. (AP) — A State Police investigator said today he had no doubt the body discovered in the ruins of a $150,000 summer estate was that of Arthur W. Lawrence, 23, of Bedford Village.

Lt. Harry E. Blaisdell, the investigator, said, however, positive identification probably would not be established "because there isn't enough to identify" from the remains.

Leo Dechene, a caretaker at an adjoining estate on Little Moose Lake, found Wednesday that the main building on the estate of the late Samuel Earl burned to the ground.

The house, on the grounds of an exclusive private club, had been closed for the winter.

The State Police officer gave this account:

The caretaker, seeing an automobile stuck in a narrow road a mile from the estate, followed foot tracks to the house Tuesday morning.

He roused a man sleeping on a mattress in front of a fireplace, and asked his identity.

"I'm one of the Earl boys," the man was quoted as replying. "I'm a member of the club."

Blaisdell said, however, it definitely had been established "he was not an Earl. The Earls are all accounted for."

Although he did not recognize the man, who was covered with a blanket, the caretaker said he had no reason to question further.

The Lawrences own a summer home nearby. "The families are very good friends," Blaisdell said.

The car stuck in the mud was registered in Lawrence's name, State Police said. They said Lawrence had left his Westchester County home Saturday.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Earl's widow, Mrs. Caroline Earl, and Holly Wheeler about 13, a daughter by a previous marriage, had not been at the camp since last summer.

Mrs. Earl has a home at Greenwich, Conn.

Earl shot himself to death at the estate Feb. 19, 1960, during a financial crisis that beset the Standard Furniture Co. in Herkimer.

Earl headed the firm, which, at the time, was on the verge of closing because of competition.

A sum, reportedly $700,000, from insurance policies on Earl's life, was paid to the company and it remained in operation. The furniture firm was sold last July to Emeco Corp. of Hanover, Pa.

Two Trade Charges

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Radio arguments opened up between Egypt and Syria today, barely 36 hours after the Syrian army quelled pro-Nasser mutiny in Aleppo in northern Syria.

Relations again appear strained between the two Arab nations, whose union under Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was broken by a Syrian army coup d'etat more than six months ago.

Cairo radio then charged Damascus authorities were breaking their pledge made at a conference with the pro-Nasser rebels.

Damascus radio charged that Cairo stations were waging a campaign of distortion against Syria.

65MPHThruway Speed Starts Next Monday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The maximum speed on most of the State Thruway will be raised from 60 to 65 miles an hour as of noon, Monday, the Thruway Authority announced today.

R. Budell Bixby, authority chairman, said the new speed limit would be in effect on the following sections:

The 390 mile-stretch between the Spring Valley toll gate in Rockland County and the Williamsville area, just east of Buffalo; the 60 miles of the Erie section between Lackawanna, Erie County, and Ripley, near the Pennsylvania state line; the 24 miles of the Berkshire section between its connection with the Thruway near Selkirk and the Massachusetts state line.

The 50-mile an hour limit will remain in effect on the Berkshire's Castleton - on - Hudson bridge. Other sections also will not be affected.

Bixby said the new limit would apply to all vehicles except tandem trailer-trucks, for which the maximum speed will remain 50 miles an hour. The authority, Bixby said, decided to raise the speed limit by 5 instead of 10 miles an hour "to permit motorists to build experience in expressway driving before consideration was given to the higher limit." The Thruway was designed for a basic speed of 70.

Move Underway ToOrganizeMajor Apple Producers

A strong move to advance bargaining and marketing activities for apples for processing has been undertaken by the American Agricultural Marketing Association, an affiliate of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The New York Farm Bureau Cooperative is a member of the AAMA.

In a report to its member state associations, the AAMA announced a stepped-up program to organize apple producers in the major apple producing states. A national apple marketing committee will be designated by the states, and a full-time manager will be employed on the national level to supervise and correlate the activities of the Apple Department within the Marketing Association. State Marketing Associations are already active in Virginia, New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Michigan. Maryland is in the process of organizing.

Assisting in the development of the national program is an interm committee composed of Howard L. Baker and Clifford Toenniessen of New York; J. Kenneth Robinson and Ben R. Lacy III from Virginia; R. Samuel Dillon Jr., and Lloyd Balderston III from Maryland; Richard Trostel and Ralph W. Tyson from Pennsylvania; Stanley E. Eye and James McDonald, (alternate for Edward Miller) from West Virginia; Walter Wightman and Henry Nelson from Michigan.

Detailed plans for the organization of growers of processing apples in New York State are expected to be announced in the near future.

2 Vessels Report Air Strafing in Indonesian Area

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Distress messages telling of aerial strafing were reported today from two vessels in equatorial Pacific waters off Indonesia.

One was an Okinawan tuna fishing boat. The other was an unidentified craft that Japanese maritime authorities said probably was American. The nationality of the planes were undetermined.

Four Crewmen Hurt

Both Indonesia and the Netherlands are keeping watch on sea frontiers in their militant dispute over the future of Dutch West New Guinea.

The Okinawan coastal radio picked up word that the Okinawan fishing boat was shot up Tuesday night about 20 miles north of Morotai Island in the Celebes and four crewmen were injured.

The message indicated damage to the boat was repaired and it headed southwestward on a 250-mile voyage across the Moluccan Sea to seek medical aid for the wounded crewmen at Manando, Celebes.

Navy Investigating

The Moji branch of the Japanese Maritime Safety Board received a report from a Japanese fishing boat that the other vessel, perhaps of American registry, was strafed in the night about 40 miles east of Morotai.

The U.S. Navy was investigating. The American high commissioner, Paul Caraway, asked the U.S. Embassy in Jakarta, Indonesia's capital, for information about the shooting.

Takes Vent Out on Car

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Angry at his former wife, Thurman Adkins, 26, took it out on her automobile, according to the testimony heard by the grand jury before it indicted him for malicious destruction of property.

The prosecution says Adkins jumped on the car's hood, kicked out the windshield, broke other windows, poured sugar in the gasoline tank and sand in the radiator.

The car was sold for junk.

Dennis O'Mara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. O'Mara, is a patient again at Rehabilitation Hospital, West Haverstraw. He is a ninth grade student at Wallkill Central School and has enjoyed letter and greetings sent to him by his classmates and advisor Mrs. Walter I. Nevin.

Girl Scout Troop 42, leaders, Mrs. Robert Auchmoody and Mrs. Howard Stickney, have also been interested in O'Mara and have been fulfilling their community service requirements by sending magazines and cookies to the hospital.

O'Mara is preparing for an operation, and a long stay at the hospital. His address is Rehabilitation Hospital, West Haverstraw, New York, Ward E and F.

INSURING THE UNEMPLOYED—An important factor in American economic life is unemployment compensation, designed to cushion the effects of business recessions on both the individual and the community. Chart above, based on Labor Department data, traces the past 15-year history of state, federal and railroad unemployment insurance programs. Shaded bands indicate the four recessions which have occurred since 1946. The record shows that in times of high unemployment, benefits paid contribute a definite addition to purchasing power and operate as an economic stabilizer, damping the effects of recessions. In boom or boomlet periods, unemployment funds, raised by taxes on employers, are able to recover. Benefits rose sharply in 1957 and 1960 because of special temporary compensation programs, plus higher payment levels, and fell rapidly during the second half of 1961.

278 St. Lawrence Pilots Threaten Strike Friday

MONTREAL (AP) — St. Lawrence River Pilots threaten to strike at 12:01 a.m. Friday in a dispute with shippers over pilotage fees, tariff changes they say favor the owners, and the number of pilots employed.

Involved in the strike call are 278 pilots working between Les Escoumains, Que., 140 miles northeast of Quebec City, and Kingston, Ont.

Andre Bedard, president of the St. Lawrence Pilots' Federation, said Wednesday measures had been taken to "assure the security of all ships now in transit on the St. Lawrence River."

The federation complained of a negative attitude on the part of ship owners.

Mason Believes 'Rebecca' on TV Good Adaptation

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Repeated attempts to convert popular motion pictures into one-hour television programs have usually fizzled because of too much plot in too little time, insists actor James Mason.

"The trouble is the abbreviation," the British performer-producer-director explained. "They get so busy telling the story that they have no time left for scenes—and good scenes are what make an interesting show."

Mason, who recently finished playing the male lead in the movie adaptation of the shocker novel, "Lolita," will be playing Maxim de Winter Sunday night in a live adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's famous "Rebecca." The play is one of NBC's "Theatre '62" series based on old hit movies—which so far has proved one of the major dramatic disappointments of the season.

Mason—with that optimistism that invariably infects performers before a show or program—believes that the problems of abbreviation have been licked.

"'Rebecca' has such good scenes," he said thoughtfully. "And Maxim de Winter is the woman novelist's eternal hero—all those unhappy, brooking heroes are descended from 'Jane Eyre.'"

FCC chairman Newton Minow's criticism of radio "in too many communities" as a "clamorous Casbah of pitchmen and commercials that plead, bleat, pressure, whistle, groan and shout" may result in a welcome revolution in programming, much the way his "vast wasteland" speech improved some TV programming practices last year. The fact remains, however, that radio has continuously done a fine job in news coverage.

St. Francis Star Is Divorced Wednesday

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Brad Dillman, who played the title role in the film "St. Francis of Assisi," was divorced Wednesday. His wife declared he "wanted to be a bachelor and never should have gotten married."

Mrs. Frieda Dillman, 31, testified in Superior Court her husband "ignored me most of the time and didn't talk about anything..."

Dillman, 31, did not contest the $750 alimony per month and $250 support monthly for the couple's two children, Jeffrey, 4, and Pamela, 2.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weather and market prices may lure many dads into the backyard for a spring cookout this weekend.

Pork ribs, steaks and chickens are features at many supermarkets over the country—all excellent candidates for the charcoal chef.

Roasts and small turkeys also are featured this weekend along with stew beef, veal, and lamb legs and shoulders.

Breakfasts continue bargains, with bacon cheaper and eggs at remarkably low prices. In the Chicago area, the price of grade A large eggs has dipped to 39 cents a dozen in some shops.

Lenten features include scallops, canned tuna, fish sticks and fish portions.

Dairy prices continue downward, with butter off a cent or two a pound in many markets.

Fruits and vegetables remain on the high side in most markets, after adverse growing weather. This is particularly true in the Southwest and Midwest.

Vegetable features include asparagus, carrots, lettuce, onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

Some spring fuits and melons are flowing northward but prices have yet to drop appreciably. Best buys continue to be apples, grapefruit and oranges.

Teachers Can Learn

NEW YORK, (AP) — Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts is to include a training center for the benefit of arts teachers throughout the country. William Schuman, president of the project, said the project is designed to attract at least 400 teachers each summer beginning in 1966. The purpose, he said, is "to raise the level of education for literally millions of students." As examples of the operating method, Schuman said speech teachers would be able to act in plays under the direction of theater experts. Musicians and dance teachers would work with leaders in their fields.

Course Is Tougher Than Man Says Grand Slam Bob Jones

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — It's tougher to battle a course than to battle a man in golf, says Bob Jones.

"I used to lose 10 to 15 pounds every time I played in an open championship," the Grand Slam king from Atlanta recalled today. "I could compete in the match-play amateur tournaments and never lose an ounce.

"In match play golf, where it's man against man, there are plenty of opportunities to relax and blow off steam. In the stroke-play opens, where it's man against the course, one loose shot can cost you the title.

"I guess I worried off the pounds when I played in the opens."

Won Thirteen Titles

Jones, who swept to 13 British and U.S. national championships before his retirement at the age of 28, said the pressure built up tremendously in 1930 when he scored the game's unparalleled Grand Slam—winning the U.S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur in 12 months.

"It was the waiting and not the tournament themselves which got me," Jones added. "This was the most exasperating feature of it. You see, I had to wait from July to September between the British and the U.S. Amateur."

Jones, just turned 60, is on hand for another Masters.

Crippled by a spinal ailment and partially paralyzed, Jones can no longer swing a club. He watches the game's new breed pass by from a wheelchair on the porch of his white cottage, alongside the 10th fairway at Augusta National. Occasionally, he wanders out on the course in an electric cart.

Orton and Great Scot Victims in 3 Falls

The professional wrestling troupe returned to the municipal auditorium with loud bang Wednesday, as more than 1200 fans jammed the Broadway arena.

Johnny Valentine, 220, Seattle was without his regular partner, Cowboy Ellis (ill with flu), but his team captured the tag-team feature from Bob Orton, Kansas, and The Great Scot, who had a combined weight of 487.

Bill Darnell teamed with Valentine. They dropped the opening fall at the 10:30 mark and squared the match with a fall 2:53.

The contest came to a noisy halt when Referee Chick Gaynor of Troy stopped the contest after 4 minutes 30 seconds and awarded the fall to the Valentine - Darnell combine. It seems Orton and the Great Scot in their anxiety to demolish their opponents fractured a few of the athletic commission regulations governing wrestling — like two men in the ring at the same time and things like that.

Other results were:

Karl Von Hess, 200, the Baddie from Germany, flipped Luis Torres, 225, Pueto Rico in 14:05 of a one-fall bout.

The first tag-team match saw Brute Barnard, 220, Canada and Irish (Skull) Murphy, Ireland, defeat the Lewin brothers of Buffalo (Mark and Ted, both 220: in a three-fall decision).

The Lewins grabbed the first fall in 8 minutes 35 seconds, but Barnard and Murphy rallied to win the next two falls 2:22 and 4:35.

In a time limit bout, Eugeno Martin, 235, Puerto Rico tossed the Marquis de Parre of Paris, 239, in 14 minutes, 45 seconds.

Officials for the card were: referees, Anthony Malfi, Yonkers, and Chic Gaynor, Troy; judges, Bill Zelick, New City, and Ben Murrell, Hudson; timer, Henry Taylor, Suffern; announcer, Dick McCarthy, Kingston.

Promoter Ed Ceccolini announced that he would return to Kingston on April 25, with a show featuring midget wrestlers and the Fabulous Kangaroos.

Dodgers Picked in National

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — National League expansion to 10 teams and Los Angeles' move to a home park more suited to its talents should combine to bring a pennant to Walter Alston's Dodgers.

It figures to be another typically tight National League race, with at least four clubs hurling challenges at the Dodgers. San Francisco has the most power, St. Louis the strongest pitching Milwaukee the best infield and Cincinnati the confidence of a defending champion.

The Dodgers lack one commodity to break the race wide open. They can't match the power of their rivals, excepting St. Louis, but they have better overall personnel, pitching, speed and defense than any other club.

The Giants, who could take it all if they get the pitching, probably will present the most formidable opposition to the Dodgers. The Reds still are a strong threat despite the loss of Gene Freese, the hard-hitting third baseman, with a leg fracture.

The Braves, short of front-line pitching despite the presence of the durable Warren Spahn-Lew Burdette duo; and the Cards, relying on oldsters Stan Musial and Minnie Minoso to supply much of the power, appear slated to battle it out for fourth place.

Pittsburgh, still uncertain of the availability of sore-armed Vern Law, their former pitching ace, seems doomed to finish at the top of the second division. A four-team scramble is envisioned for the seventh spot.

The predicted finish:

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Cincinnati
4. Milwaukee
5. St. Louis
6. Pittsburgh
7. Chicago
8. Houston
9. New York
10. Philadelphia

Baseball Spring Training Notes

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

Jottings from the notebook of a reporter covering baseball's spring training:

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets is always surrounded by a circle of newsmen and radio men before every game. He talks nonstop and is a rich source of stories, doubletalk and all. His pregame appearance at the plate to give the umpires his lineup always draws a round of applause from the fans.

Something never seen during the regular season is the rigorous calesthentics all clubs go through at the start of each practice session. These vary all the way from the elaborate tortures devised by Coach Otis Douglas of the Cincinnati Reds ("He must have worked in a concentration camp," his players mutter) down to a few laps running around the field and setting up exercises used by some clubs.

Cumbersome television equipment has made its appearance at every Florida ball camp. As Joe Garagiola, St. Louis master of ceremonies says, "Expression counts more nowadays than hitting."

Spring training is the time of eternal hope and goodwill. Everyone knows, but no one talks about, the fact that six months from now a couple of today's most genial managers will be on the skids, a handful of veterans will have broken down and be benched, a great mass of "phenoms" will have been sent to the minors, and almost from nowhere will have emerged stars not now figuring in the lineups.

Fraudulent Baseball Company Abolished

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball for Europe, Inc., a firm which said its purpose was to promote better international relations through sports, was dissolved by a New York County Supreme Court order obtained by State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, his office announced today.

The order was signed by Justice William C. Hecht Jr.

The attorney general's office said that less than 10 per cent of the money raised by the corporation was used to promote baseball in Europe. Since its incorporation in 1958, the attorney general said, the firm raised about $17,000 and borrowed $14,000 more, while spending only $2,000 to buy baseball equipment.

Lefkowitz said this was a "callous waste and misuse of funds."

Syracuse Sends Flock of Stars; Champs on Hand

Cannonading Opens Friday at the Bowlero

High powered teams and individual stars will invade the 29th annual New York State women's bowling championships from the north, south and west this weekend.

A half dozen squads capable of displacing the current Class A leaders—Pepsi Five of Buffalo (2612)—start the cannonading on Friday night's 7 o'clock squad at Sangi's Bowlero.

The teams will come from the upstate strongholds of Utica, Syracuse, Rochester and Niagara Falls; and from Saratoga, Schenectady and New York City.

Going into the third week of action, the Class A leaders are: Pepsi No. 5 Five, Buffalo, 2612; Phyllis Notaro-Jean Caliendo, Buffalo, doubles, 1118; Louise Mercurio, Syracuse, singles, 649; Louise Mercurio, all events, 1704.

By midnight Sunday, the Class A standing boards may have undergone a heavy scrambling, although some of the present Class A scores would have won several tournaments in the past.

The defending team champions—Bar Chris Construction of New York City—with slight changes in personnel roll their team event Friday at 7 p. m. on lanes 13 and 14. They will cross lanes with the crack Delegge Funeral Home of Schenectady, headed by such stickouts as Clara Walendziak, Marty Christian and Evelyn Crowley.

Individual Stars

The Bar-Chris squad features Irene Monterosso, who shared the 1959 doubles title with Marge Nelson at 1241—two pins under the all-time. Monterosso is paired with Marie Baxter in doubles Sunday at 1 p. m. on lanes 15-16.

A rundown on other top teams and individuals due this weekend:

Doris Luker-Jennie Luggiero (Utica), 1956 doubles champions with 1190. Doubles scheduled Saturday, 11 a. m. on lanes 11 and 12. Team event (Whitestown Construction Co.), Friday, 7 p. m., lanes 11 and 12.

Helen Gresens — Syracuse — 1954 singles champion (619); teams in doubles with Dorothy Arns, Saturday, 1 p. m., lanes 25-26. Team event: Canada Dry, Friday, 7 p. m., lanes 13-14.

Frances Priola, Syracuse captured 1939 doubles with late Mary Kite Sr. (1162) in 1939; won all-events, 1939, with total of 1735; doubles with Rose Bretzer, Saturday, 1 p. m., lanes 27-28; team event, Budweiser Beer, Syracuse, Friday at 7 p. m. lanes 13-14.

Jane Murphy — Utica — 1948 all-events champion (1739), doubles with Rose Roemer, Saturday, 1 p. m., lanes 37-38; team event (Hotel Utica), Friday, 7 p m., lanes 15-16.

Barbara Hoffman — Saratoga — 1960 high three game winner with 652. Doubles with Mary Russell, Saturday, 9 p. m., lanes 23-24; team event, Saratoga Bowl, Sunday, 2 p. m., lanes 14-15.

Evelyn Crowley — Schenectady — 1953 doubles champion with Barbara Craig (1168); doubles with Marty Christian, Sunday, 3 p. m., lanes 19-20; team event, Saturday, 7 p. m., Delegge Funeral Home, lanes 15-16.

Di Georgio's Pizzeria, 1958 team champions, roll Saturday at 7 p. m. on lanes 17-18, with their championship lineup intact.

Record Trout

NAPLES, N.Y. (AP)—M. Sgt. Jim Grove, a U.S. Army recruiter, really caught a big one this time.

It was a 15-pound-five-ounce rainbow trout from the waters of Naples Creek. The involuntary enlistment Wednesday was one of the largest reported since the 1962 New York State trout season opened Sunday.

Broglio's Flashy Pitching Hints Recovery of Old Form

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Broglio, plagued by arm trouble last year after winning 21 games in the 1960 baseball campaign, has pushed the St. Louis Cardinals' rising pennant stock up another couple of points with his strongest pitching performance of the exhibition season.

The 26-year-old right-hander, taking a giant step along the comeback trail, fired 'em up Wednesday, flashing his 1960 form as he went seven innings and scattered six hits in the Cardinals 7-5 victory over Philadelphia at Clearwater.

Now he's got Manager Johnny Keane hoping a winter's rest has taken care of the problems and put him in shape to take his place alongside Larry Jackson, Ray Sadecki, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and newcomer Ray Washburn as a starter for the pitching rich Cardinals.

In other fine pitching efforts, Ed Rakow went the distance for Kansas City to beat Cincinnati 3-1 at Tampa, Minnesota's Jack Kralick and Dick Stigman shut out Baltimore 5-0 with a six-hitter and Pittsburgh rookies Bob Veale, Jack Lamabe and Diomedes Olivo stopped Washington 2-0 on two hits at Fort Myers.

Meanwhile, the hitters lashed out as Houston thumped the Los Angeles Angels 20-5 at El Paso and San Francisco walloped Cleveland 18-17 in 11 innings at Phoenix for an amazing total of 60 runs and 74 hits in the two games.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1 at Lakeland, Milwaukee defeated Boston 9-2 at Scottsdale, the Chicago Cubs nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5 at Mesa and the New York Mets beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 at St. Petersburg.

Sullivan Raps Homer

Rakow checked the Reds on eight hits while batterymate Haywood Sullivan gave the A's the runs they needed with a two-run homer off Joey Jay. The Twins used five walks, a two-run double by Bob Allison and Jim Snyder's two-run single for five in the eighth off Jim Lehew after the Orioles' Steve Barber had hurled four-hit ball for seven innings.

Bill Mazeroski's homer and Larry Elliot's third hit accounted for the Pirates' runs in their victory over the Nats. Roman Mejias, 3-for-3, slammed two homers and Hal Smith, Norm Larker and pitcher Dick Giusti each connected for one in the Colts' 21-hit attack. Giusti and Dean Stone limited the Angels to eight hits.

Home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Bob Perry, Manuel Mota and Jim Davenport paced the Giants' 25-hit outburst but it took a single by Matty Alou to drive in the winner in the 11th. Willie Kirkland hit two homers in the Indians 20-hit offensive. Home runs by Tom Tresh and Elston Howard off the Tigers' Phil Regan got the job done for the Yankees.

The Braves, leading 3-2 on Del Crandall's two-run single, put it away against the Red Sox with a six-run spree in the fifth as Lee Maye and Ed Mathews powered homers. The Cubs won it with a 4-run ninth, capped when Dodgers' rookie Nick Willhilt walked in the winner with two out.

Trailing 4-3 in the sixth, the Mets beat the White Sox on Felix Mantilla's inside-the-park homer with a man aboard as Mike Hershberger and Floyd Robinson collided while chasing the ball.

Ray's Lose 3rd Place

Ray's Tackle Shop of Kingston suffered another second half letdown and lost to Davie's Cornhuskers, 92-91 in overtime, in the battle for third place in the Mid-Hudson tournament at Poughkeepsie Wednesday night.

The locals led 46-36 at the half. A 36-point fourth quarter enabled the Cornhuskers to tie the regulation game at 82-82.

Fox scored 36 points for the winners. Al Byrne racked up 34 for Ray's .

In the championship game, NSO of Poughkeepsie beat Schatz-Fedral, 73-69. Deke Johnson of the NSO squad was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Largest Field In History Set For the Masters

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The largest field in history—and one of the strongest—sets out today over the beautiful but deceptive Augusta National Golf Course in quest of the 1962 Masters Golf Championship.

Almost everyone who is anyone in the game of golf, headed by golden boy Arnold Palmer, is among the record 110 competitors. The pairings include such current stars as:

Gary Player, the defending champion from South Africa and only foreigner ever to win this storied event; Bill Casper, the rotund Californian whose power and putting combined are what the doctor ordered for mastering the long—6,990 yards par 36-36—72—Augusta National with its mammoth, multilevel greens; Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., who usually has a fistful of long green when the prize money is passed out; and Jack Nicklaus, 21, a powerful Ohioan who won the National Amateur crown last fall and then decided to turn his tremendous game into a money-maker.

Palmer in the past four years has won this tournament twice and twice missed by a total of only three strokes.

An Augusta oddsmaker has installed Palmer as a 3-1 favorite, quite a tribute to the strongman from Latrobe, Pa., for even in his heyday the odds on Ben Hogan seldom were shorter than 6-1. Although the once-feared Texas Hawk will be 50 in August, Hogan is rated a respectable 10-1 for this Masters despite his semiretirement from competitive golf.

Clean Up Boxing Or Kick It Out, Is Nixon's Stand

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon says professional boxing should be "cleaned up or kicked out, one or the other."

Nixon, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, told a news conference Wednesday that the sport in California is clean. He said if he becomes governor he would not recommend its abolition.

Wade Only Claimant as Bears No. 1 Quarterback

CHICAGO (AP) — If there were any question that Bill Wade is the Chicago Bears No. 1 quarterback, it has been settled. The only other possible claimant to that title, Ed Brown, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Brown, former University of San Francisco star, went to the Steelers Wednesday for that club's No. 1 draft choice next fall nd a player to be named later.

In a companion deal, Bear Coach George Halas acquired Bobby Joe Green from the Steelers for a 1962 draft choice.

Jones Dairy Sets Two Marks in Valley Loop

Jones Dairy keglers of Kingston set two records in winning their second straight Hudson Valley league championship.

The local hotshots finished with an average of 1016.14, well above the previous record of 1012, set by Jones Dairy in 1953-54.

Another record was established by the Dairymen when they socked five straight series of 3000 or better, breaking the record of four, made once by Jones Dairy in 1954 and four times by the famed Dutchess Rec team of Poughkeepsie. The Recs accomplished the feats in 1958 and 1959.

The locals just missed the mark of firing the most consecutive games over 1000. The record is 11, set by Jones Dairy (who else) back in 1954. The present team went over the mark 12 times in 13 games but a 985 game after six straight efforts thwarted the bid.

Close But No Cigar

Individual marks in the league held up but Jack Ferraro narrowly missed two of them. He had nine straight series of 600 or better, missed tying the record and then came back with several more. His 210.1 average for the season is a little over two pins away from the 212.13 record, set during 1953-54 by John Ferraro.

Jones had high triples of 3358 and high single of 1202 for the season and they came close to circuit records. Rapp's Furniture Express of Kingston has the triple mark, a hefty 3414. The team single game is 1238, hit by Jones Dairy in 1954.

For those who might not remember, the Rapp's team featured George Flemings, Harold Broskie, Joe Schrowang, Hank Kemmerer and John Ferraro. In that 3414 triple, Schrowang hit 771, Ferraro 710, Broskie 676, Flemings 641 and Kemmerer 616. Games were 1083, 1131 and 1180.

The Jones team of 1954, which set several records and rates as one of the all-time great teams in the valley, was composed of Larry Weishaupt, Broskie, Charles Manfro, Dick Howard and Ferraro. In that 1238 solo, Ferraro slugged 289, Weishaupt 257, Broskie 247, Howard 235 and Manfro 210.

11-Game Margin

League standings, as released by secretary Ralph Smith, show the Jones boys with a 55-23 mark and a margin of 11 games over second place Charles Ramsey Corp. Ellenville Channel Masters nipped two other local squads — Three Brothers Egg Farm and Miron Lumber — by a half game.

In addition to Jack Ferraro, the only other keglers above 200 in average were three more Jones Dairy stars. They are Buster Ferraro, 204.34; Larry Petersen, 201.37 and John Ferraro Sr., 201.18. Chris Gallo just missed with 198.52.

Individual highs were Sam Fisher (765) and Petersen (290). The 3358 and 1202 by Jones were records for this year.

Members of the circuit will attend the annual banquet this Saturday, 7 p. m., at the Rhoda Arms in Newburgh.

Cleveland Takes Lead in American Hockey Semifinal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Barons, unimpressed by Springfield's awesome credentials, have gained a one-up margin in their American Hockey League semifinal series for the Calder Cup.

They did it the hard way, too, beating the Indians at home where Springfield is virtually unbeatable—in the first of their best-of-seven series.

Wayne Larkin got the winner at 10:16 of the third overtime in the Barons' 4-3 conquest of the longtime kingpin Indians Wednesday night.

The second game will be played in Springfield Saturday.

Larkin's dramatic marker after 50:16 of overtime play came as a shocker to Springfield fans, who had seen their Indians lose only four times in 35 home appearances last season. It snapped a string of 10 straight playoff victories for Springfield, going back to the 1960 finals.

Buffalo defeated Rochester 3-2 in a quarter-final match for a 1-0 ead in their best-of-three set. Hershey, which holds a 1-0 lead in its best-of-three quarter-final with Providence, visits the Reds home ice in the only action tonight.

Shoemaker Now In Arcaro's Boots

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be up to old Johnny Longden to determine just how long Willie Shoemaker, the crown prince of jockeys, occupies the throne abdicated by Eddie Arcaro.

"I plan to retire when I'm about 35, unless Longden is still riding," the 30-year old Shoemaker said today. Longden is now 55, and still riding.

"He was riding before I was born, and darned if I'm going to let him outlast me," the Shoe said.

The soft-spoken Shoemaker moved into Arcaro's top-ranked riding boots when "The King" retired Tuesday.

He immediately latched on to two of the big horses in racing, the Bohemia Stables' Kelso and George D. Widener's Jaipur. Both were the private property of Arcaro, who retired as the greatest money winning jockey of all time after more than 30 years of racing.

Shoemaker's credentials as the new No. 1 man are impressive. He rose to stardom faster than any rider in American history.

Arcaro retired after riding winners worth $30,039,543. Shoemaker's horses had collected $24,466,798 through 1961. Through 1961, Shoemaker rode 4,199 winners, third behind Arcaro's 4,779 and Longden's 5,500-plus.

Shoemaker, a native of Fabens, Tex., who was raised in El Monte, Calif., rode his first winner, Shafter V., at Golden Gate Fields, Calif., April 20, 1949. Seven years later he rode his 2,500th winner, the fastest ever to hit that figure.

Kid Paret's Body Will Be Flown To Miami Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The body of former welterweight boxing champion Benny (Kid) Paret is scheduled to be flown to Miami tonight for funeral services and burial near his adopted home.

The 25-year-old Cuban died early Tuesday of brain injuries suffered in a title fight with Emile Griffith at Madison Square Garden on March 24.

More than 17,000 persons viewed the body at a Bronx funeral home Wednesday and police estimated nearly 2,500 persons were either inside the home, waiting in line or loitering nearby.

Earlier in the day Paret's widow, Lucy, learned from the New York State Athletic Commission that she will collect some $28,000 before taxes as Paret's share of the $50,000 purse from the Griffith fight.

Dupas Blames Public Frenzy For Paret Death

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "It's the people all around who are to blame—the public. That's who I blame—the public."

That's the comment of Ralph Dupas, No. 1 ranked welterweight boxer, on the death of former welter titlist Benny (Kid) Paret, who died Tuesday from injuries received in his March 24 fight with Emile Griffith.

"People are blaming the referee and the manager for not stopping the fight," Dupas said. "But you didn't hear anybody at ringside yelling to stop the fight."

The 26-year-old veteran New Orleans fighter said public demand for sluggers has made managers turn fighters into punchers rather than boxers.

"Boxers are booed, so managers teach their kids to be aggressive, to please the TV crowd."

May View Death In Space, Video Audiences Warned

CHICAGO (AP)—Television audiences must be prepared to witness death in space flight efforts, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration warns.

The administrator, James E. Webb, speaking Wednesday at the 40th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, said men died while exploring the earth's unknown regions, and it is foolish to ignore this possibility in the far more hazardous regions of space.

"If we are to ride into space with our astronauts via television, we cannot avoid being there if tragedy strikes," he said. "Perhaps as a nation we can learn that some of the most valuable lessons of space flight come from failures."

The NASA chief noted that by far the largest daytime audience in television's history watched Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s space flight on Feb. 20, and he praised broadcasters for their extensive coverage.

At one time or another during Glenn's three-orbit trip the flight's progress was followed on television in nearly 44 million homes, Webb said.

"Not since the flight of Charles A. Lindbergh (in 1927) in the Spirit of St. Louis has such a feeling of participation been generated around the globe."

Compare Indian Tribes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists are comparing two tribes of American Indians to determine the effect of climate and heredity on arthritis and rheumatism.

The U.S. Public Health Service, in announcing this today, noted that for hundreds of years changes in climate in hopes of physicians had recommended helping sufferers of the diseases.

"Yet," the service said, "there is no conclusive evidence that transplanting patients from one location to another has any lasting value—and medical texts on the subject sometimes read more like folklore than presentations of scientific data."

Marlboro Man Charged

Shad Should Be in Kingston Area Of Hudson in About Week's Time

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS
Freeman Staff Writer

Shad, now testing the chill of early spring in the lower Hudson, is expected to arrive our way (off Kingston Point) by best estimate today of local fishermen, in about a week.

Catches of smelt have been reported in the area for the past several days but fishermen say they are running smaller and less plentiful than last year.

Are on Way Up

Shad is now being caught a few miles north of the mouth of the Hudson, indicating they are on the way up, and local fishermen are preparing to start their first "drifts" in about a week, Eugene VanSteenburg, of 60 Newkirk Avenue, said this morning. He looks for a good run.

New York City's Fishery Council reported late last month that shad was arriving "in fine quantities from Georgia's Altamaha and Ogeeche rivers." North Carolina then was starting its shad run and that was to be followed by a "heavy Chesapeake production."

Shad receipts in lower New England and the Middle Atlantic Markets, says Fishery Council, "show almost 100 per cent roe shad." The buck, it says, "seems to be more elusive than the roe-bearing female." (local fishermen might have something to say about this.)

A Real Delicacy

This idea of the plentiful roe shad is a good one, says the council report, "because the lady shad gives us delicious roe, and also possesses the fat and tasty filets from which the wonderful delicacy, boned shad, is made."

High in protein "and rich in polyunsaturated fat," (if you like the idea) "shad and shad roe rate high in food value," says the council. This fat content makes for a flavor that requires only "the simplest cooking."

Now if you go for shad roe saute you "Simply melt butter or margarine in a heavy skillet until the bottom is generously covered. Put in shad roe when the butter is warm — before it and the pan get really hot. No breading, not even flour, should be used. Cover and simmer over a low flame for six or seven minutes on the first side. Turn and repeat for second side. Keep enough melted butter in pan to prevent sticking. Season and serve with lemon wedges. Boiled potatoes and spring asparagus round out a delicious entree."

And again if you want broiled boned shad, you place "boned shad fillets in a baking dish, pie tin or what have you. Sprinkle generously with toasted bread crumbs. Do not use cracker meal, cornmeal or flour. Dot liberally with butter or margarine. Add cold tap water to the pan until it creeps up on the edges of the boned shad. Place in preheated broiler (500 degrees) three or four inches below flame. After about six minutes top should be crisp and golden brown and flesh will be cooked through, retaining all natural juices and flavor. Serve immediately."

We hope you know how to handle smelt.

Corps' Birthplace

The U. S. Marine Corps was born in Philadelphia, Pa., on Nov. 10, 1775, when the Continental Congress needed sea-going soldiers to fight on land or water. First little band was expanded to about 485,000 men in World War II.
